CLINTON HIGH SCHOOL

Foreword

It may be a mansion,
It may be a dump,
It may be a farm with an old oaken pump.
It may be a palace;
Or it may be a flat,
Or it may be a room where you hang up your hat.
It may be a house with a hole in the floor;
Or a marble hotel with a coon at the door.
It may be exclusive, or single, or swell;
Or a wee bit of Heaven, or a whole lot of——well!
Kindly remember wherever you roam,
That Shakespeare was right, kid,
There's no place like H-O-M-E!

And what has dear old C. H. S. been to us for the last four years? Wasn't she—to a certain degree—OUR home? Indeed she was, and many are the happy hours we spent there.

The Editorial Board of Memorabilia XIV has tried to weave memories—pleasant memories—into this book of remembrances. We hope that they will be received in the same spirit in which they were given—the spirit of comradeship.

We have tried to instill into this addition to Memorabilia the spirit of dear old C. H. S. In our future years we will remember her as the "light that never failed!" She took us over that stony path through the land of "in-between." She led us safely and wisely to the shores of the vast sea of life. She was indeed our haven—our H-O-M-E!

FACULTY

The
Class of 1927
Expresses its Genuine Appreciation
Of the Efforts of EBEN S. COBB
and Members of the Faculty
On our Behalf.

EBEN S. COBB

We, the class of 1927, can boast of having one of the best principals in the state,—Mr. Cobb. As a teacher, he has shown his great ability, and as a principal he has never failed to give us the best of his counsel for our future plans. His understanding and obliging nature have made him a true friend of 1927.

LEWIS S. GORDON, JR.

"Doc" is one of the favorite teachers of our class. He could always be depended upon to help us in our troublesome moments and his good nature and friendly spirit earned him many friends. This fact could be proven by a glimpse at his office which was always filled with pupils, desiring aid. It is with sorrow for leaving him, and gladness for having known him that we bid goodbye to this gentleman of knowledge, wisdom and understanding.

ANNA T. COMASKEY

As a teacher of the French and German languages, Miss Comaskey is certainly a capable, efficient one. That her obliging nature has made her a favorite among her pupils is proven by the fact that all pupils who took the first year of German under her guidance, never failed to take the second year of it. Her charming ways cause her to fill a dear place in our hearts and we wish her every joy.

JOHN F. COMISKEY

This is Mr. Comiskey's second year with us and he officially comes in contact with only Commercial students. This does not mean, however, that he is not a favorite. No one entered the portals of Room 4 in September and left in June without learning the intricacies of the business world. Mr. Comiskey's favorite word was, "Comprend?" Which tends to show that if we did not learn it was our own fault. He is wished much success by '27. "Catchum" the idea?"

RAYMOND F. DYER

To Ray goes the reward of being the most helpful friend of 1927. He had the burden of making the class book what it is—and its success is due to the aid and time he so kindly gave outside of class. Ray's services to the class football and basket-ball teams sure were appreciated. In class his ready wit and obliging nature helped us to study our lessons with pleasure. Good Luck Ray—Never-to-be-forgotten friend of the Seniors!

MARY C. HARRITY

Miss Harrity taught only Commercial subjects, but we always enjoyed these classes, partly because of the teacher and partly because of her methods of teaching. Miss Harrity was strict but by the time we became Seniors we realized that it is the strict teachers whom we generally admire and from whom results are usually obtained. She is wished the best of luck by the graduating class.

PATRICK F. HYNES

Pat, that is to say, Mr. Hynes, is one of the teachers whom few of us have had the pleasure of truly understanding. Those of us, as Sophomores, aspiring for a little knowledge of Caesar without too much work, entered his awe inspiring room. It wasn't until we were Seniors unwinding the tales of Virgil that we appreciated Mr. Hynes' keen wit and humor. We all, however, will remember Pat's unceasing willingness to help us out of our difficulties no matter where the trouble lay. The class of 1927 extends to him its due thanks for his unfailing helpfulness.

NELLIE KENT

As a teacher of mathematics, Miss Kent is a perfect success. Those of us to whom mathematics seemed somewhat a burden shall never forget the patience and aid she gave us after school hours, helping us turn our fears of mathematics into joy. Her sincere interest in the class of 1927 has made her an inspiration long to be cherished in our hearts.

MARY KERRIGAN

Shall we ever forget the first day when we entered the French class of the "petite, amicable institutrice" and the amazement which spread over our faces at the fluent French which greeted us. We learned quickly (?) however, and it was not long before we were able to understand our "petite" teacher perfectly. Her friendly spirit and her understanding nature has made her a sincere friend of 1927.

ALICE B. McNAB

Although we have not had Miss McNab since we were Freshmen and Sophomores, she still keeps a warm place in our affections. She often introduced little devices to turn Freshmen's Stumbling Blocks to Stepping Stones to Success. In Latin I she quickly smoothed over our rough spots. We are certain she will continue to endear herself to the classes in the future as she has to us.

JOSEPH F. McCAFFREY

As a teacher, "Joe" is a success but as an athletic coach he surely is a marvel. He is largely responsible for the success of the various athletic teams and the keen zest which he put into a game of basket-ball showed his fine spirit of helpfulness which inspired the boys on to win. As a teacher, his flow of wit and his patience brought out the fact that he could easily cover himself with glory in entirely different undertakings. Good luck, Joe, from 1927!

JOHN P. McGRAIL

Many seniors were fearful, upon finding that U. S. History, a dreaded subject, was required; so, it was with heavy hearts and lagging feet that we entered Room 5 in September. But was this the way we marched into that same room a week later? No, we'll say it isn't; not by a long shot! We sure did imbibe knowledge from Johnny, especially on the importance of the dollar sign, or in the language of the curbstone, Mazuma. For our success in the Senior Show we are greatly indebted to Johnny. "May he obtain all the success he desires," is the wish of '27.

HENRY J. McSHERRY

Shall we ever forget, Harry, the patient, genial friend of the Seniors? Although when we entered his Chemistry classes we had no knowledge of the difference between a mixture and a substance, we quickly learned that it was a pleasure to be taught mysteries of that science under his supervision. His ready wit, inexhaustible patience and eagerness to help erring seniors make him a staunch friend of 1927.

JOHN F. MITCHELL

Mr. Mitchell is, in reality, "our" teacher; for he entered the portals of Clinton High with us and was our homeroom warden when we were seniors. "Did we learn from Mr. Mitchell?" We certainly did!" "Did we whisper and talk in the Hall?" "We certainly did not!" Because, the moment we were so inclined, we would feel "Jack's" penetrating glance upon us and instantly our minds would become fixed on far more important matters. Best wishes from 1927 Jack.

ELIZABETH R. ROWAN

The Seniors came under Miss Rowan's control, chiefly, in the Lecture Room while reporting to Mr. Cobb. And did she control them? You bet she did! Miss Rowan had the intricate rules of French Grammar at her disposal and she sure did make those Seniors who came under her guidance absorb French like sponges. Miss Rowan will always be remembered and liked by the graduating class.

SUSAN D. SMITH

As we passed along the corridor on the second floor we were always sure to be greeted with a pleasant smile from Miss Smith. She is one of our most pleasant and obliging teachers. We looked forward eagerly to the happy and useful hours spent in taking Library Lessons. It is with much regret that we leave Miss Smith and we are certain that whenever we think of her classes it will be with the most pleasant memories.

ELIZABETH THOMPSON

Few of us have had the pleasure of being under the guidance of this capable teacher as she entered Clinton High only about two years ago. However, the neat caps and aprons made by her pupils and the delightful food that they cooked under her supervision attracted our attention and admiration. As a teacher of History, Miss Thompson has gained many friends among her scholars to whom she has endeared herself by her charming ways.

HANNAH M. WALSH

Although Miss Walsh taught but Freshman and Senior English, she is the friend of every Senior whether we came under her guidance or not. Her study periods given over so kindly to our needs gained her many friends. The true friendliness which she showed to our class is shown by the fact that outside of class, we never failed to seek her advice concerning our future plans. So it is that with a fond farewell we wish her every happiness.

ELEANOR M. DRISCOLL

The whole class did not come under Miss Driscoll's supervision until Commencement Days began to draw near. Then didn't we learn how to warble? You bet we did! Her kind and patient disposition has gained for her many friends. Her patience seemed, a great many times, without end, and we wish to thank her for the part she has played in making our "Great Day" a success.

MARY T. GIBBONS

"Who is the most popular teacher with the girls in Clinton High?" (Now girls, all in a chorus): "Mary T." We all acknowledge that Miss Gibbons certainly did her utmost to make "gym" a pleasure, and she surely succeeded. Miss Gibbons coached our girl's basket-ball team and we extend our thanks to her, for it was her coaching which enabled us to win the championship in our Junior year. Mary T. seemed more of a pal than a teacher and it is with regret that we leave her.

ROLAND B. HOUSTON

From Mr. Houston, we have learned that Mechanical Drawing and Shop Work can be made a pleasure to be enjoyed as well as a subject to be studied. His methods of teaching which were strict but instructive, caused us to have a thorough knowledge of that subject. It is with sorrow that we bid him farewell. May luck accompany any enterprise that he may undertake.

MILDRED A. SMITH

Miss Smith was a teacher whom few of us had but we all liked. We, occupants of the Hall had great opportunities to admire and look over the work of her students. She taught us how to make many pretty and attractive novelties which caused Manual Arts to become a happy pastime and it will long be cherished in our memories.

A bold bad man

MILTON ALTMAN

"Mitto," "Murphy," "Irish"

College Course

Inter-Class Basketball 3

Favorite Expression: "He's a big Oil Man from Well Well." Favorite Occupation: Studying. Ambition: To Travel.

Introducing Milton, one of the midgets of our class. When Milton first entered into our midst, he was one of the quietest of our boys but suddenly, the teachers began to hear whispers from the territory around Milton's chair and they began to wonder if that "petit" student could be responsible for so much noise.

"Middo" has made an enviable record in his studies and his name is always to be found in the testimonial ranks, but for all of that Milton has read every "Frank Merriwell" that the author has ever written.

"Milt's" witty answers have often relieved the chilly atmosphere in a room though frequently they only made the atmosphere more chilly for himself.

Milton has not decided on his future but whatever it may be the class of '27 wishes him the best of luck.

Born for success he seems

JAMES ALZAPIEDI

"Jimmie," "Speedy," "Jim"

College Course

Inter-Class Baseball 3. Inter-Class Football 3

Favorite Expression: "Holy Smoke!" Favorite Occupation: "Sleeping." Ambition: "To be a King."

Have you ever walked over High Street and noticed the good looking young man who labors diligently in D'Onofrio's Barber Shop? Well, if you haven't you ought to, for that young man is our "Jim."

James has never had time to try out for sports, but we are willing to wager that in a hair cutting contest, "Jimmie" would be right on top.

That his extra-curricula activities do not interfere with "Jim's" studies is attested by the number of testimonials "Speedy" walks off with every quarter.

And now for the personal touch—among intimate friends "Jim" sometimes talks of New Hampshire. We wonder why——?

James is interested in Chemistry and he is planning to sojourn at Tufts. Well, "Jim," in future years you can say one thing and that is '27 is right with you.

A girl light-hearted, and content

HELEN GERTRUDE ASHTON

"Nell"

Normal Course

Hiking Club. Gym Pageant. Gymnastic Exhibition

Favorite Expression: "Don't get sarcastic." Favorite Occupation: Going to the theater. Ambition: To teach children.

Helen is one of our sweet, capable, industrious girls rather fond of keeping herself in the background, yet always rising to the occasion when necessity demands.

Very studious, too, is Helen. She refuses to fool in school but makes up for it outside, where she is as happy-go-lucky as the rest, thus following her motto, "Work while you work; and play while you play."

Helen is that blushing miss who is scarcely seen without her sunny smile and whose good-nature makes her popular with all of us. "Nell" manages to get along famously in school. If there is anything she is doubtful of she smiles with innocence and passes it off.

To Helen, work and recreation are synonymous and so, on Thursday and Saturday evenings, you may see her behind a counter at Newberry's where her bright smile brings her new friends.

"Nell" tells us she is going to be a teacher. That has always been her ambition and explains her studious appearance this last year, for she has resolved to enter Worcester Normal School, this fall. With each successive year in Helen's companionship we feel more assured that she has just the qualities that a teacher should have.

Farewell, Helen, may your paths lead on to happiness and success. We know that you will bring renown and credit to C. H. S. and to 1927.

She taketh most delight in sports and riding

WILMA RUTH BAER

"Will," "Grizz"

Commercial Course

Captain of Girls' Basketball Team 3. Gym Pageant. Hiking Club

Favorite Expression: "Oh, sure!" Favorite Occupation: Selling Jelly Rolls. Ambition: To drive a Ford.

The very minute we speak of "Will," we think of the winning of the basketball championship when we were Juniors. "Will" was captain of her team and her fast playing was one of the reasons why the championship was won.

Basketball was not the only specialty Wilma had. By all means, no! "Will" was a clever dancer and never lacked a partner at dancing socials. Her events of the "night before" made one sit up and take notice when told the next morning.

But this does not mean to indicate that Wilma regarded school work lightly. She gave all her attention to it when studying and Chemistry was her favorite subject. She could tackle any laboratory experiment without fear whether be it the manufacture of Hydrogen Sulphide or Nitric Acid.

Wilma is to enter the nursing profession at the Clinton Hospital in the fall. We can just picture her in a white uniform and her sweet, friendly ways will cause the patient to doubt if he be on earth or not. Best of luck, "Will," from 1927!

I'll improve with age

JAMES PATRICK BALL

"Bally," "Jimmy," "Jim"

College Course

Inter-Class Basketball 3. Inter-Class Football 3-4. Inter-Class
Baseball 2-3-4

Favorite Expression: "Yeh! don't be foolish!" Favorite Occupation: Running. Ambition: To become a lawyer.

James is another of our small classmates, but anyone who knows "Bally" will quote the old proverb, "Good things come in small packages," for example, dynamite.

Some people call "Jimmie," "Dynamite" because of his pugnacity in his encounters with McMahon in History.

When "Jimmie" came to our class he came alone, but now he is almost always seen in the company of our other midget,—Altman.

"Jimmie" has always shown his ability as a student, although he spends a great deal of his time in the Wickwire Alleys, where he is the boss of the Pin Boys.

In and out of class, "Bally" is good-natured and obliging. "Jim" has a certain originality as evidenced by the "wise cracks" which he springs occasionally.

James has not decided on his future, but if his classmates' good wishes mean anything, his success is assured.

Gee—but I hate woman—(suffrage)!

LOUIS I. BEDRICK

“Louie,” “Lou,” “Shekles”

College Course

Inter-Class Football 3-4. Baseball 2-3. Basketball 3. Minstrel Show 3-4

Favorite Expression: “Crine out loud.” Favorite Occupation: Behind the counter. Ambition: Pullin’ teeth.

One of the irrepressibles of the class, “Louie” has made himself immensely popular by his free manner and quick, hearty grasp of new friends. He is never lacking friendliness, and always carrying pleasantness.

As an orator, “Lou” displayed his vast knowledge of education in the debates he participated in U. S. History. Daniel Webster would have frowned with jealousy, had he heard the flowery eloquence dropped from “Lou’s” lips.

In other studies, “Shekles” also shone, nor was he lacking in athletic ability. We look back with admiration to our class football teams and to the manner with which he handled his opponents. Moreover, he has been our statistician concerning the lives and records of those who cavort on the diamond.

Louis intends to further his studies at University of Pennsylvania and we feel sure that he will succeed.

Wherever he may go,
He has never a foe

FRANCIS JOSEPH BURGOYNE

"Bugs"

Inter-Class Basketball 3. Inter-Class Baseball 3. Inter-Class Football 3-4.
Minstrel Show 3-4

Favorite Expression: "Going up tonite?" Favorite Occupation: Experimenting? in Physics. Ambition: Civil Engineer.

Next, folks, we turn the spotlight upon a high mark of '27 lists. "Bugs" proved during his stay of four years at C. H. S., that he was a scholar of no mean ability, which fact we have seen affirmed each quarter by the cluster of "testies" beside the name of Burgoyne on the Testimonial List.

"Burgie" is not exactly one of the bookworm species of sharks, however, for has anyone ever seen "Bugs" overloaded with books? I'll say you haven't, for he prefers a vest pocket variety of manuscript.

Worcester Tech is his choice and with him go the best wishes of '27. Then, after Tech he——well, folks when you build that little love nest or perhaps that castle of your dreams won't you look up the F. J. Burgoyne Co., Architects & Contractors?

Go west, young man, go west!

WALTER EDMUND BURKE

“Brother,” “Squire”

College Course

Inter-Class Basketball 3. Varsity Football 2-3-4. Business Manager of the Class Book. Varsity Basketball 4

Favorite Expression: “How are ya?” Favorite Occupation: Cutting fingers. Ambition: DuVarney’s Partner.

“Burkie,” as Walter is known to his friends, is Business Manager of our Class Book. His business-like manner and his personality fit him admirably for this position. After school Walter may be seen getting “ads” for the Class Book, and few are the business men who escape his clutches.

“Burkie’s” career as a student—nuff said. But on the football field he’s a perfect demon. His insatiable thirst for warm, fresh blood has made him one of the best tackles the school has ever had, and the team will certainly feel his loss.

“Burkie” is exceedingly valuable in class excitements, he is always ready to start something and follow it up.

In “Burkie,” Notre Dame is getting a prince of fellows, sure to be appreciated.

The sincerest wishes for success, Walter, are with you from '27.

No one can love and be wise at the same time

ROBERT NEIL CAMBRIDGE

"Bob"

Special Course

Inter-Class Basketball 3

Favorite Expression: "Oh, yes!" Favorite Occupation: Chauffeur.
Ambition: Electrical Engineer.

"Bob" joined our ranks in Sophomore year and has completed the High School course in $2\frac{1}{2}$ years, which is a very creditable record and one to be proud of.

He carried off his share of testimonials, too, and we could always depend on "Bob" for a period of argument with the teacher. This ability of "Bob's" to retain his convictions was appreciated by us especially on Mondays and "the morning after the night before."

"Bob's" definite convictions extend to another Senior with whom he always attended our social affairs. In fact, his convictions are so definite that he is even more than an "8 o'clock Sunday nighter" at a certain Chestnut Street address.

"Bob" showed his athletic ability as center of our championship basketball team. Perhaps some of his athletic prowess is due to the training acquired through his avocation (driving cars and taking care of furnaces certainly makes for physical fitness). "Bob" is due at Tech in the fall and we wish him the best of luck.

Haughty? No—looks are deceiving

BERTHA IRENE CARD

“Dutchie,” “Berta”

College Course

Hiking Club 1-2. High School Orchestra 1-2-3. Glee Club 3-4. Junior Prom Committee. Minstrel Show 3. Senior Show.

Assistant Business Manager of the Class Book.

Favorite Expression: “Whoopie.” Favorite Occupation: Laughing. Ambition: Music Supervisor.

One could spend months and fill many books in giving a true description of Bertha; and here I have only one page on which to sketch her career as a student of C. H. S. From the Freshmen to the Faculty “Berta” is a general favorite, full of life and pep, always with a winning smile on her face, and ever ready to lend a helping hand.

Ever hear any of Bertha’s funny stories? You haven’t! Well, then you’ve missed something. She could tell them for a whole period and still have a lot left. The teachers, however, were not allowed to listen in on these stories, so maybe that was the reason why they said so often, “3.15, Miss Card.” Bertha has much talent as an actress. Was not the success of our show partly due to her splendid acting? It certainly was. Bertha is also a musician. I need say no more, for I’m sure that everyone has heard her, or heard of her. Her intention, she says, is to be a music teacher. We know that you will be a success in whatever you undertake, Bertha, so we’ll just say to you, “Good Luck.”

"We've got onions and scullions, cabatches and string beans"

GEORGE THOMAS CASEY

"Case," "Zutter"

College Course

Inter-Class Football 2-3-4

Favorite Expression: "Why?" Favorite Occupation: Bending. Ambition: Lawyer.

"Mirabile Visu!" These would probably be the first words of our noted Latin teacher, Mr. Hynes, on observing the above photograph. And it surely is "wonderful to see." For who would guess that a fellow like "Case" would take such a cherubic picture?

By that we don't mean that George is nefarious; nothing of the sort. George is an all-around "good fellow." But anyone knows that if there is any "deviltry" going on, "Zutter" has either started it or is there cheering on the side-lines.

"Case" had a way of making us forget our troubles, and wherever he was, there was bound to be merriment. However, "Case" was no "plug" when it came to studies either, and though he "followed the line of least resistance," he always managed to get good grades.

Someone has said, "Nobody loves a fat man." Not so with George, however. We all like him and whatever path he may choose in after life he will have with him our most sincere good wishes.

Gentle and small, but well-beloved by all

ESTHER MURIEL CONN

"Essie"

Commercial Course

Gym Pageant. Glee Club. Minstrel 4. Hiking Club 1-2.

Gymnastic Exhibition.

Favorite Expression: "For pity's sake!" Favorite Occupation: Taking down dictation. Ambition: Private Secretary.

"Gentlemen Prefer Blondes." You can't blame them when you take a look at "Petite Esther." Esther's bright and jolly disposition was sure pleasing to those who knew her, although at intervals she seemed quite shy.

Esther is one of our quiet girls, although she takes advantage up in the hall, of talking with the rest of the "bunch," but to be serious, Esther attends to her work and tries to keep out of trouble.

Did I hear some one say, "His Secretary?" I'll say so—Connie works afternoons in a lawyer's office and intends to continue to grace the aforementioned office permanently after our "Big Day." To be able to keep work and school going and come out on top in both is some stunt, but it didn't bother "Connie" much.

Esther sure enjoys running her fingers over the typewriter, in the Commercial Department. And another thing Esther can do is take shorthand notes, the marvel of it being that she can read back her notes. Which, I'll tell the world, is more than some of us can do!

Combining undoubted intellectual ability with a true kindness of spirit, "Connie" has all the earmarks of a successful stenog, and her plans for a big career in business should materialize.

Short but sweet!

JOHN JOSEPH CONNELLY

"Lutch," "Doc," "Tony"

Technical Course

Varsity Football 1-2-3-4. Track 3. Inter-Class Baseball 2-3-4.
Inter-Class Basketball 2-3

Favorite Expression: "Why." Favorite Occupation: "Selling Candy for Uncle Joe." Ambition: Baseball Umpire.

You are now gazing upon the handsome countenance of John J. Connelly, the biggest, huskiest and most considerable boy in the class. 'Lutch's' huge physical proportions have stood him in good stead on the football field, where, since he entered High School he has been a "holy terror" playing on the line. Football was not "Lutch's" only sport, however, for he also was the shining star on our champion inter-class basketball team.

"Lutch" is one of the easy going members of the class, but he is one of the best assets this class has, and surely no one could find a truer and better classmate. Good-natured and amiable, "Lutch" has the regard of all his classmates.

"Doc's" ambition leads him to the University of Maine, where we feel sure his happy disposition will gain for him an honored place among the fellows there.

Sober, steadfast and demure

ELVIRA ELIZABETH CONSTANTINO

"Mary," "Connie"

Commercial Course

Hiking Club 3-4. Glee Club 4. Minstrel 4

Favorite Expression: "What in the world?" Favorite Occupation: Making Newberry's New. Ambition: Private Secretary.

What can I say about Mary that has not already been said or told?

"Connie" is a dark-haired, dark-eyed little girl, full of fun and always willing to lend anyone and everyone a helping hand.

As to studying, Mary does quite a bit of worrying and "Burning the Midnight oil." If we all did as much studying as "Con" we, too, might know our lessons perfectly. While I'm about it, I might say that she doesn't do her studying in school, as some of us think we can do, but takes her books home at night.

To the bookkeeping students, I might say, "Remember Mary's brilliant if not, based on fact, arguments with our teacher, Mr. Comiskey, when he started to teach us different methods." Don't smile at that, you, too, were quite unwilling to change your ways.

So far so good. Now, I must tell about what Mary intends to do in future life. She is undecided as to what school will have the pleasure of receiving her into its midst, but she does know that she wants to be "Somebody's Stenog." The point is somewhat of a mystery to the rest of us, but we intend to get to the bottom of it before long.

Well, Mary, there is too much to say about you on one little page, so before I make a break again, I'll stop. '27 wishes you good luck, and its best wishes will follow you always.

Her quiet and unassuming manner,
Brings forth her pleasing ways

EILEEN MARIE COSTELLO

"I," "Ellie"

Normal Course

Minstrel 4. A. A. 3-4. Glee Club 3-4. Gym Pageant 2. Hiking Club 1-2.
Gymnastic Exhibition.

Favorite Expression: "Oh, that's a help." Favorite Occupation: Trying to get fat. Ambition: To climb the highest mountain.

One of our most obliging and best liked girls is "Ellie." Although on first acquaintance, Eileen seems to be very quiet, when you really get to know her, you realize the mistake you've made. For "Ellie" is not exactly a prim, conservative little Miss.

Eileen is extremely fond of sports as may be noticed by her faithful attendance at all of the High School games. (Perhaps "He's" on the team! Who knows?) But, however, this doesn't interfere with Eileen's studies for when reports come out, Eileen's is never decorated with those pretty little red trimmings. Nor do any of those first-of-the-month envelopes travel Eileen's way.

Eileen is quite noted for her pleasing personality and because of this she has made many friends during her school life at C. H. S. "I" plans to enter Normal School and we feel sure that her talent for bringing sunshine into this world will not go unrewarded.

She has wit, and fun, and fire

EVELYN ELIZABETH DAVIS

“Ev.,” “Si”

College Course

Historical Society 4 Gym. Exhibition 3

Favorite Expression: “Step on it.” Favorite Occupation: Horse-back riding. Ambition: “To go to Europe.”

Evelyn did not join our ranks until we were Juniors but she certainly has made up for it, and now she has gained many more friends than some girls who have been here the whole four years.

She was a “shark” in English and “Math” and didn’t we envy her! Evelyn certainly had patience for it was almost impossible “to get 1 goat. “Si” was one of the honorary members of the Historical Society and she surely deserved the honor as a glance at her History marks would prove.

She intends to go to Wheaton and who knows but some day she may preside, we might say with much dignity, over Room 2. Evelyn’s ability to take a joke, even when it was on herself, gained for her many dear and lasting friends. If we just couldn’t translate that line of Latin, Evelyn was certainly ready to help. We are certain she will succeed and make a name for herself and the Class of ’27 is sincerely proud of her.

She dances, too, and studies some,
But notwithstanding has much fun

MARGARET MARY DERVIN

"Peggy," "Peg"

College Course

A. A., 1-2-3. Gym Pageant 2. Gym Exhibition 2. Minstrel 3-4.
Junior Dance Committee. Junior Prom Committee. Hiking Club 2-3-4.
Co-writer of Class Prophecy.

Favorite Expression: "No kiddin' or nuthin'?" Favorite Occupation:
Falling hard? Ambition: To go to Alaska.

"Who's that coming up the stairs? They had better hurry, the bell's about to ring!" All these thoughts pass through our minds in rapid succession and then as we glance up again we see it is the same smiling face which greeted us the morning before.

If the old saying, "The one worth while is the one who can smile when everything goes dead wrong," is true, then surely "Peggy" is worth her weight in gold, for did you ever see "Peg" without a smile? I'll say you didn't.

"Peggy" was the only Senior girl who followed the intricate mysteries of math for four years and you can take it from me, she was "good."

"Peggy" plans to take a four year course at Bridgewater and then teach High School and we feel positive that after graduation, when she follows her star of conquest to Bridgewater, that one more member of '27 will have begun the journey that leads to Success.

All great men are dying, and I am feeling ill

JOHN FRANCIS DEVANEY

"Dynamite," "Cyclone," "Gunpowder," "Dev," "Zev"

Technical Course

Inter-Class Football 3-4. Orchestra 3-4

Favorite Expression: "Oh! f'Gawd's sake." Favorite Occupation: Playing the banjo. Ambition: To play with the Cliquot Club Eskimos.

Let us stop for a moment and rest our gaze on "Dynamite." One would wonder how this peaceful-looking young man ever came by this awe-inspiring title. Certainly there was nothing dynamic about his actions about school.

"Cyclone" acquired his warlike titles in two ways: first, by the "gunpowder incident" (John's Great Adventure); second, by his far-famed habit of dry "wise cracking," a method of joking which, we must admit, is entirely his own. In fact, we were wont to view him wonderingly at his obvious hilarity at his own little colloquialisms, which we generally received at the wrong time and which more generally provoked us to a word entirely opposite to "Gunpowder's."

"Zev" is also one of our promising musicians. It won't be long now before he'll be stealing Harry Reser's job. Maybe playing with the "Esquimaux" would cool him off a little.

However, John has one outstanding quality. He was one of our most brilliant students, and never refused to aid us when we needed help, which was often.

John plans to enter Worcester Tech next year, and we sincerely hope for his future good fortune.

Au revoir, "Dynamite."

"And her fingers" wandered idly over the ivory keys"

LILLIAN IRETA DOWD

"Jackie," "Dowdy"

Commercial Course

Minstrel Show 3-4. Cheer Leader 4. Orchestra 4. Glee Club 3 4.
A. A., 4. Girls' Hiking Club 2-3-4. Food Sale Committee (A. A.) 3.
Class Book Staff

Favorite Expression: "Oh Heck!" Favorite Occupation: "Pounding the Ivories" into "Music." Ambition: Orchestra Leader.

Lillian deserves the sincere thanks of the Class of '27 for her work as the Class Book typist. To ask Lillian for a favor was really pleasant for we knew before hand the reception we would get.

"Jackie" belongs to the group in the back of the Hall and without her their efforts at merrymaking would be a dismal failure. Lillian's achievements since she has been in High School are too numerous to enumerate so I will give the most important ones. She is founder and leader of "Dowd's Famous Orchestra" that helped make our "Tea Dances" such a success. As a soloist, Lillian is right there, remember when she took her audience by storm when she sang in the Minstrel Show. As for Typewriting, Lillian had the rest of the Seniors beaten by a mile. First Shot, she won a gold pin from the Royal People. As a Cheer Leader, "Jackie" surely knew her stuff and at every game she was there to offer that little bit of encouragement that is needed for any game. Remember how she shouted herself hoarse at the Inter-Class games and made our girls just so they had to win? "Lill" certainly does love sports, tennis above all others, and right here comes that so often repeated "I wonder why?"

"Jackie" intends to go to Fairchild's to learn just a little bit more about how to be a "Private Sec." Success is bound to come in whatever you undertake, Lillian, so here's to you from '27.

A light heart lives long

AGNES MADELINE DURKIN

"Pidgy"

Normal Course

Dramatics 1. Minstrel Show 3

Favorite Expression: "Good Goat!" Favorite Occupation: "Skipping Out." Ambition: "To be naughty but Nice."

Agnes is that demure little lady whom we all admire, but whom few of us have had the advantage of knowing real well for she is quiet and reserved and attends strictly to her own affairs.

"Just being happy, is a fine thing to do,"—this is "Pidgy's" bit of philosophy, and it has won her hosts of friends.

Sorrow never lingers very long with this pleasant classmate, and she can help you, too, to find the silver lining to all your clouds. Studies and teachers never interfere with her social activities.

Agnes is also one of our few actresses, and showed her "stuff" playing the leading feminine role of our Freshman play.

As yet, Agnes hasn't decided what she will do next year, but we know from our association with her in the past, that she will certainly succeed.

His hair is of good color, an excellent color

RAYMOND CHARLES DUVARNEY

"Ray," "Red"

General Course

Class President 4. Class Book Staff. Inter-Class Football 2-3-4.
Minstrel 3. Junior Dance Committee. Inter-Class Baseball 1-2-3-4.
Junior Prom Committee. Class Ring Committee.

Favorite Expression: "Hey! How did you make out last night?"
Favorite Occupation: Taking a vacation. Ambition: Bootlegger.

President of our Senior Class and most popular fellow and classmate is "Ray." "Ray" came into Clinton High a very bashful Freshman, but he soon made himself a friend of all his classmates and, in his Junior year, his unceasing work on the Junior Prom made it a great success. This work did not stop, and he carried our Senior Class through a very successful year. We won't discuss "Ray's" career as a student but we can inform you that he never contracted brain fever or hurt his eyes in the nerve-racking experiment of studying.

On our Inter-Class football team, "Red" was the left end who pulled the forward passes out of the air and carried the ball for more touchdowns than any other player on the team.

As a dancer, "Ray" can certainly "Strut his stuff" which, of course, makes him a very popular fellow with the fair sex.

"Ray" plans to enter Norwich and we are sure he will make a success. To him our class sends out the best of luck and happiness. Good Luck, Ray.

Not bold, not shy, nor short, nor tall,
But a new mingling of them all

ELIZABETH MARGARET FLAHERTY

“Bessie,” “Beth,” “Flarie”

Normal Course

Gym Exhibition. A. A., 2-4. Hiking Club 2-3-4

Favorite Expression: “Say it quick!” Favorite Occupation: Hiking.
Ambition: To be a nurse!”

“Bessie” is one of our best natured girls and also one of the cutest. Did anyone ever see “Beth” that she wasn’t smiling? We often wonder why she wasn’t named “Smiles” instead. It would have suited her better. She walked right into our hearts when we first met her and she has kept her place there ever since. We all consider her a wonderful asset to our class.

“Beth” is fond of sports. She can sure play tennis and who knows, but some day she might be a second Helen Wills. Hiking is her favorite pastime and you can often see her starting on a hike shortly after supper.

“Flarie” intends to join the nursing troop. With her kindly heart and winning way she will capture the hearts of all the invalids. Would you blame people for wanting to be ill? Always keep that sunny and cheerful way, “Beth,” and you will make a success of your future.

Adieu, “Bess,” you leave ’27 with the assurance that there will be a warm spot in our hearts for you.

A maiden fair with coal black hair

LOUISE CECELIA FONTANA

"Dustie," "Lou"

Class Secretary 2. Minstrel Show 4. Glee Club 3-4. Hiking Club 1

Favorite Expression: "Do you think you'll ever go back?" Favorite Occupation: Humming. Ambition: Buyer for Woolworth & Co.

Besides the winning smile, the cheerfulness, and other incidentals belonging to a pleasing personality, Louise is the possessor of more than her share of good looks. She can hardly be said to be "très petite" for on the contrary, she is one of our tallest girls. Louise was the one who was always ready to help a classmate in need.

"Dustie," the other half of the "Gold Dust Twins," is quite a sales girl. Thursday and Saturday nights, she may be seen presiding over a counter in Woolworth's. Louise has sometimes a distracted air when waiting on the customers—it must be the—well, let's say the air of Woolworth's.

Louise intends to go to Framingham Normal and has hopes of some day being the inspiring light of a class of little tots—we know you will succeed, Louise, in this, your chosen profession, but above all things we feel that you will succeed in the greatest game—Life. Lots of Luck from '27.

I'd rather be right than be the President

PETER FRANCIS GANNON

"Peewa," "Ty," "Pete"

College Course

Inter-Class Baseball 3

Favorite Expression: "Don't fail me now." Favorite Occupation: Looking up Topics. Ambition: To be a teacher.

"Pete" is such an unusual fellow that we are at loss where to begin or to leave off. As a rule, a quiet fellow—one would infer that there occurs every night at his house a battle of books. But we who know him, fully realize that he did not require glasses from over study.

"Ty" is always on hand at our class affairs, and is ever ready to work towards any success which the class might attempt to accomplish. You would be able to distinguish "Pete" from a group, by his soberness, sincerity and rough laugh.

He generally knows what's doing, and always has a new one to spring on "Murphy."

"Ty's" plans for the future have not yet been formed, but we feel he will succeed in anything he undertakes.

In parting, "Peewa," we can do no more than repeat the exhortation,—"Carry on." Do in the future as you have done here, and our fondest wishes will accompany you to your happiness in life.

Merry—as the day is long

VERONICA E. GARVEY

“Vera”

Normal Course

Glee Club 3-4. Minstrel Show 3-4

Favorite Expression: “Oh Boy!” Favorite Occupation: Laughing.
Ambition: To weave lamp chimneys.

Here is one of our girls, who needs no introduction. For isn't she recognized by all, as one of the liveliest and best-natured girls in our class?

When any of her classmates are stricken with a “case of blues,” “Vera” is on hand, her cheerful word, helping hand and ever-ready grin, doing double duty.

Since we have listened to her great recitations, especially in (English IV), we know it will not be long before she shall rise to the dizzy heights of fame.

Ah! Silence! What is that we hear? Look! It is tearing up the “Hill,” and there is “our Vera” holding tight to the back seat. Vera thinks “m——s” are just the last word, we often wonder why.

Whatever Vera's idea of a career may be, we know that with her gay disposition and happy grin, the world will be a much happier place on account of her.

Staid and steady, always ready

MARGARET MARY GATES

"Peg," "Peggy"

College Course

Orchestra 3. Glee Club. Minstrel Show. Co-writer of Class Prophecy

Favorite Expression: "What's the use?" Favorite Occupation Running to school. Ambition: To beat the bell in our daily race.

Bright, clever, cheerful in disposition, these words describe "Peggy" to perfection. Whenever we sought her, we would go to the largest group whence came the noisiest laughs. For "Peggy" has wit and humor which she uses to turn our dull moments into happy gales of laughter.

"Peg" is a very clever girl, too, and who will ever forget the cluster of testimonials she received every quarter? Then, too, it must not be forgotten that "Peggy" came in second for the Lincoln Essay. Fate has already smiled on "Peg" for she brought the attention of the entire Orient to herself, her school, town, and nation when her Lincoln Essay was broadcasted from the leading radio station in Japan, it being one of the first broadcasts in English, in Japan. The entire essay was published in the leading Japanese newspapers, so we can safely say that "Peg's" circle of admirers is indeed world wide.

These facts are not meant to prove that "Peggy" burnt "midnight oil." On the contrary, she never failed to have a good time outside of class and skating and playing tennis are her specialties. "Peg" just "eats them up" with that way of hers which proves she is a great sport.

"Peg's" destiny is Framingham Normal and we know she will succeed, while that gay, witty manner of hers will gain her many friends as it has in High School. Good luck, "Peggy," from 1927!

She was made for happy thoughts

MARY TERESA GOODSSELL

“Goldie”

Normal Course

Glee Club 3-4. A. A., 4

Favorite Expression: “Will ya, huh?” Favorite Occupation: Going on errands. Ambition: A music teacher.

It is with great honor and pleasure that we next introduce one of our beloved classmates.

“Goldie” has been with us four years and we’ve never known her to be impolite or discourteous. She is one of those quiet and pleasing girls whose smile is never hidden and she is ever ready to give a helping hand.

Good things come in small packages was surely contradicted when “Goldie” came into our midst for she is one of our tallest girls. Still she needs a step ladder for ???

Along with her studies, Mary’s brilliancy lies along musical lines for at the piano she is a wonder. We’re not at all surprised that Paderewski is taking a back seat.

“Goldie” expects to continue her studies at Framingham Normal (don’t you wish you were young pupils again?) and our best wishes go with her in her chosen profession.

Smile and the world smiles with you

ELEANOR MARY GORMAN

“El”

Normal Course

Minstrel 4. Hiking Club 1-2. Glee Club 3-4. Gym Exhibition 3

Favorite Expression: “For Heaven’s Sake!” Favorite Occupation: Swimming. Ambition: Ticket-seller for the Strand.

Dark hair, dark eyes, sunny disposition, all go to make Eleanor. That “El” is a favorite with her classmates is of little wonder for it is usually the girl who seems bubbling over with mirth that is the favorite. She is usually seen with Eileen, who is a blonde and this accounts for the names “Goldie” and “Dustie.”

Eleanor did her share of studying and her consistent good work in class shows that she possesses that “Stick to it spirit” which will ultimately earn its own reward.

When “El” said to any of us, “I have something to tell you,” she certainly made us want to know it, for we were certain it would be interesting. Eleanor may go to Fitchburg Normal and we are certain that she will make good no matter what course she takes. If having a sunny outlook on life would cause one to succeed, Eleanor certainly will, and with her we send our best wishes.

His time is forever, everywhere his place

WILLIAM GORMAN

"Bill," "Billy"

General Course

Favorite Expression: "Whoa!" Favorite Occupation: Playing the Horses. Ambition: Doctor.

Allow us next to present "Bill" Gorman, one of the best fellows in our class. Everyone knows "Bill" and it would be hard to find one of his acquaintances who did not speak highly of him.

We say "acquaintances" because one who has not known "Billy" for very long is apt to be kind of dubious as to his good intentions because "Bill" has a habit of saying things in half-jest when he is wholly in earnest.

"Bill" is a great lover of horses, and we have many times wished to be with him as he raced around the country on one of his saddle horses. At any rate, what "Bill" doesn't know about horses, isn't worth knowing.

The longer we knew "Bill" the stronger became our conviction that he was a real good fellow, and one who was willing at any time to help a poor, struggling classmate.

"Bill" is undecided in his plans for the future, but if he displays the qualities we have always known him by, he can't help but succeed.

"So long" and the best of luck to you, "Bill."

Motley's the only wear

ROGER CHAPIN HAGER

"Dow," "Charlie," "Snapper"

Technical Course

Inter-Class Football 3-4. Inter-Class Basketball 3. Junior Prom.

Reception Committee, A. A., 1-2-3-4. Minstrel Show 3-4.

Assistant Baseball Manager 3. Baseball Manager 4.

Inter-Class Dramatics 4. Class Book Staff

Favorite Expression: "Why? and give four reasons." Favorite Occupation: Driving a 1916 Reo. Ambition: Mechanical Engineer.

"He was a man worthy of everyone's friendship." This may well be said of Roger, for his bright smile and good nature have won him many friends.

"Charlie" was a back on the Inter-Class football team, where he displayed much ability. The baseball team can thank its success to the efforts of the ever-reliable "Dow," who was always on the job.

"Charlie" believes in the conservation of "midnight oil," but an occasional testimonial proclaims his natural brilliancy.

"Dow" is another one of the "bachelors of '27," but he is none the less an exponent of the terpsichorean art. If at any of our social affairs you see a form wriggling in mirth and good nature and various steps you can safely bet it is "Dow."

"Snapper" had charge of the picture and invitation arrangements of '27 and he handled it with his usual care.

"Dow" is planning to enter Tech next fall and we know he is going to succeed with '27 behind him. Good luck, "Charlie."

A simple maiden in her flower

ELEANOR JOAN HASTINGS

"Ele"

Normal Course

Glee Club 3-4. Hiking Club 1-2. Minstrel Show 4

Favorite Expression: "Do you know your History?" Favorite Occupation: Selling B. V. D.'s in Grant's. Ambition: Head buyer for some Department Store.

Folks, we are now about to introduce our "Ellie." She is one of our "happy-go-luckies." "Ellie" is that engaging miss who is scarcely seen without her sunny smile and whose good-nature makes her popular with all of us.

Eleanor is one of our quiet-looking girls in school—but, "Oh my!" out of school you ought to see her! By the way, "Ellie" has a dimple in her chin—and you know the saying about dimples on the chin! "Ellie" is generally the first to arrive in the morning, so we don't think "Ellie" will ever "race with the clock."

We have often wondered if perhaps there was a reason why she did not burn "Midnight Oil" on Sunday evenings as the rest of us poor mortals do.

"Ele" was one of the troop of girls who graced the counters at Grant's. And a more pleasing salesgirl than Eleanor would certainly be hard to find. "Ele" was obliging to the highest degree—even when it came to selling those—ahem—embarrassing objects as—ahem—.

"Ellie's" plans for the future are indefinite, but we know that wherever she goes, or whatever she does, it will be accompanied by success, and the best of luck from her classmates of '27 will be with her always.

My days pass pleasantly away

ALICE CLAIRE HEAGNEY

“Curly,” “Al”

Normal Course

Minstrel Show 3-4. Glee Club 3-4

Favorite Expression: “Oh, gosh!” Favorite Occupation: Riding.
Ambition: Teaching.

Alice, loyal, generous, exceedingly cute. These are only a few of the many adjectives which come to our mind at the mention of “Curly’s” name. Alice is one of our most popular girls, and you can give her everlasting smile the credit for making her so popular. Alice sure can “strut her stuff” when it comes to the Terpsichorean Art. And you can bet on it that “Al” never lacks a partner in “tripping the light fantastic.”

“Curly’s” a real chum and you would have to go some to find a more likeable pal. Alice intends to enter Framingham Normal this fall and we know she will succeed. ’27 wishes you the best of luck, “Al.”

May your smile continue to smooth your way over life’s hard path till you reach success.

One never becomes a gentleman by accident

ARTHUR JOSEPH HEIMER

“Art,” “Dutch”

Varsity Football 4. Varsity Basketball 4. Dramatics 4.
Athletic Assistant

Favorite Expression: “Goodness gracious, on the cuff? No! No! No!” Favorite Occupation: Dishing it out and ringing it up. Ambition: To finish studying in Rome.

Here we have Heimer, one of the most versatile members of the Class of '27.

“Art” joined our ranks this year and apparently intent on making up for lost time, he went out for every activity. And did he succeed?

Ask anybody who saw him play football. And what about the other teams? And as for dramatics. “Dutch” certainly is an actor, his portrayal of the meek office man in the Senior Inter-Class was almost professional.

Despite all these activities, “Dutch” found time for his studies and as a consequence he is ranking very high.

“Art’s” good nature and willingness to help made him a friend to all and we only regret that he couldn’t have been with us longer.

Farewell, “Art!” The best wishes for success and happiness are yours from '27.

She is little, but she's wise,
She's a terror for her size

IRENE HENDRICKSON

"Impy," "Blondy"

Normal Course

Junior Dance Committee. Junior Prom Committee, A. A., 3-4.

Gym Exhibition 3. Inter-Class Basketball 3. Glee Club 4.

Hiking Club 2-3-4. Minstrel Show 3. Basketball Tea Dance Committee 3.

Girls' Christmas Party Committee 3. Pageant 2

Favorite Expression: "They don't come any better." Favorite Occupation: Attending the High School games. Ambition: Private secretary to?

"Impy" is one of our "Peppiest" and sunniest girls. Her presence in a class room meant that there would surely be fun there also! Was "Impy" popular? You bet she was, but having a good time was not the only thing that filled her blond head and we might also add that a good deal of honest effort and studying went with it.

Have you seen "Impy" play basketball? Well, then, you have missed something, because a regular whirlwind is all you can compare her to. She is apt to appear any place at any moment and usually the wrong place for the opposing team.

Most everybody has seen "Impy" dance and that speaks for itself.

She is not certain as yet where she is going next year, it may be "B. U.," but we are sure wherever she goes that all the best wishes of her classmates will follow her.

Behold a father's pride, a mother's joy

RICHARD ALDEN HOWARD

"Dick," "Bant"

College Course

Inter-Class Football 3-4. Orchestra 1-2-3

Favorite Expression: "What's the muxta?" Favorite Occupation: Driving a Chevrolet. Ambition: Business Man.

"Dick" is one of the industrious members of the class, and almost always manages to know something of the lesson. His occasional testimonials are probably accounted for by the fact that "Dick" is not a regular attendant at dances, although he is well acquainted with the art of the Terpsichore.

"Bant" very successfully held down the berth of center on the class football team. In that game with Juniors, "Bant" showed that he had excellent understanding—11½—by staying on his feet. Though he lost his football, we didn't lose any games.

As a banjoist, "Dickie" is in great demand, and in the orchestra he has filled the gap left vacant by the graduation of his teacher and pal, Cannon, of '25.

"Dick" plans to enter Harvard School of Business Administration and '27 wishes him the best of luck.

What care I for lessons, when my heart is in the land of dreams?

ELIZABETH IRVINE

"Betty"

Normal Course

Hiking Club 1-2-3-4. Inter-Class Basketball 3. A. A., 4.

Tea Dance Committee 3. Gym Exhibition 3. Minstrel Show 3

Favorite Expression: "Huh!" Favorite Occupation: Talking. Ambition: To be a kindergarten teacher.

As is the custom, I must introduce "Betty" before I write her up. But "Betty" needs no introduction to her classmates of 1927.

"Betty" is a brown-haired, brown-eyed little girl that loves a good time and has one, too, for she makes her good time everywhere she goes. She sits up in the back of the study hall and belongs to the "gang." The girls that know her, love her for her frankness of speech.

"Betty" attends all of our social functions, and as she always has a good time, (or so she says), the "boy friends" must like her as well as her girl friends.

During the year 1926 "Betty" was the chief "sub" on our Junior team. She was the only "sub" that won her numerals and it was because of her ability to play basketball as well as the "regulars" that we won every game but one during the season. She was ready to go in at a minute's notice and play a good game. "Betty" is a girl who loved fair playing and in all sports she undertakes she keeps to that belief.

"Betty" intends to become a kindergarten teacher and we're sure that she will attain the same degree of success in that as in the things she has undertaken at C. H. S.

The best of luck to you, "Betty," wherever you may go.

Every man has his fault, and mine is modesty

WILBER MASON JAQUITH

"Jake"

Technical Course

Inter-Class Football 3-4. Orchestra 1-2-3-4

Favorite Expression: "Prove it." Favorite Occupation: Fixing "Lizzy." Ambition: Civil Engineer.

"Jake" is the well-known owner of a well-known Ford sedan.

"Jake" showed us his athletic ability on the class football team, but he did not devote all his time to athletics. Whenever there was orchestra at 2.30, his violin could be heard, merrily squeaking "Yankee Rose," or one of Miss Driscoll's favorites.

"Jake" did not need the proverbial truck to carry home his testimonials, but he got his share, and his marks were consistently good.

He could convince some of his teachers of a certain point, but NEVER our beloved French Teacher. SHE was his Waterloo. We will never forget "Jake's" interesting and instructive arguments in U. S. History, either.

"Jake" intends to further his schooling at Dartmouth. He is a would-be Civil Engineer. Perhaps in five or six years he may be constructing a new concrete bridge to Duck Harbor, or drawing up plans for our new million dollar High School, who can tell? We are sure that he will be a success in his chosen occupation.

A mighty hunter, and her prey was man

EMMA JEFFERY

"Jeff," "Dutch"

Commercial Course

Senior Show. Junior Prom Reception Committee. Inter-Class Basketball 3. Hiking Club 1-2-3-4. Gymnasium Exhibition. A. A. 1-4. Basketball Tea Dance Committees. Class Book Staff. A. A. Food Sale Committee. A. A. Christmas Party Committee. Historical Society 4

Favorite Expression: "What I mean." Favorite Occupation: Going to Church. Ambition: "Somebody's Cashier."

Who can ever forget Emma as the heroine in our Senior Show? Such acting was never seen before, and it is to her that we owe a great deal of the play's success.

Besides being an actress we find her as a basketball player. She was one of the members of our team that claimed the Inter-Class Championship, and she did her bit to pile up points for '27.

"Dutch" is one of the girls in the Back Hall group, and she knows how to take a joke when it's on her, and how to laugh when it's on a comrade.

We are rather inclined to think of Emma as being a shark regardless of the fact that she never took her books home, for who could "bluff" the way she did unless she were gifted?

After school hours, we spent many a pleasant hour listening to Emma's tales about the "night before"—with whom?

Emma has chosen the path that leads to the door of "Private Secretary" and we know that she will bring honor to C. H. S. wherever she may go.

Ah, love, they say, is king of kings

JENNIE CAROLINE JOHNSON

"Tarloline"

General Course

Gym Exhibition. Glee Club 4

Favorite Expression: "When do we eat?" Favorite Occupation: Giving a marcel. Ambition: Music Supervisor.

Have you ever had a friend, "a pal," who always defended you and on whom you could rely for consolation? If not, allow me to introduce you to "Carry." She surely is "Meased to pleet you."

"Carry" is noted for being calm, steady and reliable. She is one of the standbys when it comes to knowing her lessons, and we hardly have known her to fail or slip up on an important question.

Her two complaints, during Senior Year, was the fact that the town would not install elevators from the ground floor to the Assembly Hall. The other was that the Hall was locked too soon after school, thus depriving her of many private and without doubt INTERESTING conferences.

Rumors have it that Caroline is going to B. U. to further her knowledge in Music; but—for some mysterious reason she took up the subject of Domestic Science this past year. Well, we'll leave the rest for you to figure out??!

Au revoir, Caroline, we know you will succeed and '27 wishes you all the luck in the world.

I do love sports!

DOROTHY PAULINE JURENTKUFF

"Polly"

General Course

Inter-Class Basketball 3. A. A. 1-3-4. Minstrel Show 3. Gym Pageant
Gym Exhibition 1-3. Glee Club 4. Hiking Club 1-2-3-4. Basketball Tea
Dance Committee 3-4. Christmas Party Committee 3. A. A. Food Sale
Committee 3

Favorite Expression: "Let's go!" Favorite Occupation: Swimming.
Ambition: Director of Muscles.

When we speak of "Polly" we immediately think of basketball. For she was certainly our star forward in that game for 1926. In all other sports, "Polly" excelled far above the girls in her class, yes, even in OTHER classes, too. She is, without question, the "Girl Athlete" in High School.

Pauline was a constant attendant at all our social functions. And by the frequent bursts of laughter that come from her part of the room, we imagine others think she's "all right."

The gang in the back of Study Hall will never forget "Polly" with her wise cracks and jokes. It seems as if every member of that "society" is good at cracking jokes. But, why not? If you have ever listened in to a few, you'd probably feel like telling one yourself.

By the looks of things now, Pauline has a fair start towards being a "director" of music. But her real ambition is to be a director of Physical Education and not Music. She's bound for Posse-Nissen and wherever "Polly" wants to go, we know she'll get there.

The best wishes of '27 go with you wherever life takes you, "Polly."

When I said I would die a bachelor, I did not think I would live till I were married

JAMES HENRY KERRIGAN

“Tap,” “Jimmie”

College Course

Inter-Class Football 2-3. Inter-Class Baseball 2-3. Varsity Football 4.
Junior Prom Committee

“Jimmie” is a very quiet lad at intervals, and at other times,—well look out,—it’s hard telling what he wouldn’t do, not saying that he would do anything intrinsically irrational, for we know “Tap” better than that; but then he isn’t slow by any means.

“Tap” was extremely popular with the fair sex and hardly a recess went by that we could not see him conversing with one of our local talented toe-dancers.

“Jimmie” also was quite popular with the boys, because of his good-nature and sunny disposition. “Tap” showed his athletic prowess on the football field, and also on the Inter-Class baseball team.

“Jimmie” is headed for the University of Maine, where we know he will succeed. The best wishes of ’27 are with you, “Jimmie.”

To the good looking belong the girls

MARTIN LEO KERRIGAN

“Marty,” “Kerrie”

General Course

Inter-Class Basketball 2

Favorite Expression: “I wouldn’t be surrounded.” Favorite Occupation: Loafing. Ambition: Burke’s Partner.

Visions of Valentino and other movie heroes? No, it is only “Marty” Kerrigan. But try to take your eyes from the above likeness and stop meditating on the original long enough to read what we have to say about him.

“Marty” is very reserved in class and for this he has the good will and gratitude of every teacher. In a class such as ours, reserve is an unusual and rare virtue.

But out of school, “Marty” is a real fellow. As a swimmer, “Marty” has few equals, and W. P. I. had better reserve a place for him on their swimming team.

We have often wondered why “Marty” and his pal, “Burkie” wind their way toward Lancaster at every possible opportunity, but suspicions are allayed when one considers that Lancaster is the town from which “Marty” migrated.

“Marty” has ambitions in chemistry, and he intends to study at Worcester Tech.

Good Luck, “Marty!” All the class is pulling for you.

He was a man, take him for all in all
We shall never see his like again

PATRICK EDWARD KERRIGAN

"Paddy," "Duck," "Pat"

College Course

Varsity Football 4. Varsity Basketball 4. Varsity Baseball 3-4. Inter-Class Football 2-3. Inter-Class Basketball 2-3. Inter-Class Baseball 2. Class Book Staff

Favorite Expression: "Don't Forget." Favorite Occupation: Hoping for heat. Ambition: Fish Peddler.

A person not very well acquainted with "Paddy" would probably be misled by the continuous flow of "wise-cracks" for which we know him so well. (He has frequently extended the application of his wit to our teachers, much to our enjoyment).

However, as they say, "You can't tell an egg by the shell," for underneath "Pat" is a very different person. We have never seen him angry. Most of us at some time or other have come to him with a tale of woe, and invariably we departed in much lighter spirits, as a result of either his cheerful advice or sympathetic help.

As another representative of the "Naval Academy" he has certainly added to the laurels of that noted aggregation, for "Duck" starred equally well for Clinton High on the diamond, the gridiron, and the basketball court.

While "Paddy" could never be called "studious," he never failed to attain sufficient grade to make us wonder "how he did it."

"Pat's" next stop is Holy Cross and we feel that he will there bring honors afresh to the "Naval Academy." At least, in going, he has the sincere and hearty good wishes of us all. "Take it easy," "Pat," and good luck.

Blessings on thee, little man

PETER KERRIGAN

“Pete”

General Course

Inter-Class Football 3-4. Inter-Class Baseball 3

Favorite Expression: “Oh! Boy!” Favorite Occupation: Driving a Ford. Ambition: Teacher.

Peter is one of our quiet boys. One never hears about “Pete” creating a disturbance in any class.

In fact, he is so quiet and uncommunicative that for some time we were kept wondering why he disappeared from school directly after classes. And then we found out he was spending his time in trying to manipulate a Ford.

“Pete” was one of our stalwart linemen on our Inter-Class football team. However, Peter has not allowed his business to interfere with his pleasure and what he doesn’t know about French can be written on the back of a postage stamp. (Ask Miss Kerrigan to tell another).

By his good nature and willingness, “Pete” has made legions of friends who wish him well in his chosen profession of teaching.

All that she does is always done well

IRENE ELLEN KIDDER

"I"

Normal Course

Hiking Club. Gym Pageant

Favorite Expression: "Yea." Favorite Occupation: "Driving the Ford." Ambition: "Nurse the sick!"

Irene, one of the smallest members of our class, is a good example of that old saying, "Good things come in small packages." She excels as a delightful comrade and a good pal who is always willing and eager to lend a helping hand. In school, "I" is quiet and unassuming but her most intimate friends know that she is as jolly and full of fun as anyone could be.

Her winning smile and pleasing personality have been of great benefit to J. J. Newberry Company where one might see her playing the Victrola and selling records any Thursday or Saturday night.

Irene is planning to enter the Clinton Hospital where she is going to train to become a nurse and we feel sure that she will spread so much happiness and sunshine among her patients as she did in C. H. S.

The class of '27 wishes you the best of luck, "I," and we know that whatever you attempt will be a success.

My favorite study is boys

MARGUERITE ELEANOR KILCOYNE

“Marge,” “Margie”

Normal Course

Minstrel Show 3-4. Glee Club

Favorite Expression: “Well, Glory be!” Favorite Occupation: Lady of Leisure. Ambition: Chauffeur.

“Mistress Marg, how does your garden grow?” But to be more modern, how rides Henry Ford? With a jounce and a jostle now and then to be sure, but what fun to ride in.

“Marg” uses her imagination freely. When called upon to give her idea of this and that, keeping in mind that concealment will avail her nothing, she expresses her opinions—caring little whether they are right or wrong. “Margie” has only two bad habits, that we know of; one is staying out late at night, and the other is a fondness of sleeping late in the morning.

Doing favors is what she delights in, and her great popularity can be traced directly to that point.

Marguerite plans to enter Normal School next fall. Au revoir, “Margie,” may your path for the future be a short cut to Success.

A merry heart, and a cheerful countenance

MARY AGNES LAVELLE

"Mae"

Commercial Course

Glee Club 3-4. Hiking Club 1-2. Gymnastic Exhibition. Gym Pageant.
Minstrel 4. Class Song Writer

Favorite Expression: "If you get my meaning?" Favorite Occupation: Making Grant's grand. Ambition: Private Secretary.

"Mae" does not believe in frowning. She is one of the members who believes that a "smile will go a long, long way," and follows out that idea. If anybody wants to hear some good riddles just go to "Mae." She has the latest edition of them all. Yes, and she always finds time to tell them to her side of the "Back of the Hall" group. Maybe that's why we have to report at 3.15 so often. We'd better look into this matter.

In the classroom, "Mae" is a good worker, and although she does not wear out shoe leather walking up for her testimonials, you don't hear of her getting any of those little white greeting cards that are sent out each month.

And "Mae" surely tickles the ivories. At the social affairs she is always known to have a good time.

I must say it isn't only in the classroom that "Mae" works hard for wasn't she one of the bunch that worked in W. T. Grant's, the new department store in our town? I should say so.

"Mae" intends to go to Fairchild's in Worcester, to complete her business course because she wants to be somebody's private secretary. Possibly for life—who can tell? Whatever "Mae" may undertake, we know that she will succeed and the best wishes of '27 will always follow her,

Gee, ain't it awful to be bashful!

MARY ELIZABETH LAVELLE

"Mary E."

Normal Course

Class Book Staff. Girls' Basketball Team. A. A. 3-4. Historical Society 4. Gym Pageant

Favorite Expression: "Whoopee!" Favorite Occupation: Dreamin'.
Ambition: Write a novel.

Mary is our bashful genius. No kidding, she really is a wizard where English is concerned for she can certainly make words talk. Just take a slant at her prize-winning Lincoln essay if you think I'm fibbing. She sure did cop off all honors when she rendered it before the dignified members of the Historical Society. (What matter if her legs were shaky?)

Did you notice, I said BASHFUL? Well, let's modify this. Mary isn't really bashful, it's just that—Oh—what's-his-name, thinks she is. But Mary can blush beautifully, making the rest of us rather envy her—SOMETIMES.

Mary's quite a sport fan and it's quite the custom to see her cheering for our boys at the school games.

Mary intends to go to Bridgewater and some day we'll hear of the brilliant teacher of such and such a school who just completed an essay on Washington,—Wilson, or whoever you like; and it won't take two secs to guess who it is. No need to dwell on Mary's future success. We take it for granted.

"A friend in need is a friend indeed"

RUTH MAE LOWE

"Ruthie"

College Course

Gym Pageant 2. A. A. 4. Gym Exhibition 3

Favorite Expression: "Hey! You!" Favorite Occupation: "Playing Tennis." Ambition: "To be a Commercial Teacher."

Do I know Ruth Lowe? Well, I should say I do, and so would you, if you sat up in the Hall. "Ruthie" belongs to the bunch in the back and without her, I doubt if they could get along.

"Ruthie's" one of these happy girls, ever ready to play a joke on some one and to laugh if the joke is on her. Ask the girls up in back, they know.

Ruth is one of the girls who take an interest in all sports, especially Basketball, I wonder why? She also seemed to have a liking for skiing, sliding and skating, and in the summertime, tennis and swimming. We can class those things under one head, the reason why she likes them. All these things can be done in Maine, and so for the main classification I'd put Maine and——what else? I'll let her tell that part of it, if she will.

When you see "Ruthie" coming you can well say, "Dutch," "Lill" and "Sade" will be along soon, for they travel to and from school together. She is one of the participants in the before-dinner jokes and she can tell them, and as a popular song says, "She knows her groceries."

Ruth is headed for Salem Normal School in order to become proficient in the art of teaching Business Methods. Good Luck, Ruth, and the best of wishes from '27. That's all we can say, but we'll miss your smile and jokes and so once more we say, Good-bye.

Then he will talk—good gods!
How he will talk

WILBUR JOHN MATCHETT

“Will”

College Course

Senior Show. Inter-Class Dramatics 4. Inter-Class Football 3-4.

Favorite Expression: “Yeh? Gee!” Favorite Occupation: Selling Tickets. Ambition: “Dan Webster, the Second.”

Here is the youth that astounded us—our dear friend Muskingum. No one ever heard of Wilbur until the Senior Year. Then his rise to fame began. First he made our class football team—then he started to attend those Friday night parties that would make anyone rise quickly—and then his superb acting in the Senior Show. That was the straw that broke the camel’s back! How the feminine hearts in that audience must have revolved when our modern Hamlet performed in his unique way. And then Wilbur lost his bashfulness and came into his own. His oratory in U. S. History won all debates for his side and brought him into prominence.

Wilbur was an active member of '27 all during his Senior year. He was the leading man in the Senior offering in the Dramatic competition for 1927. We hear that he plays a mean game of tennis also.

Wilbur has his heart set on “Muskingum” as his future home of learning. We wish and we are sure you will attain all your former success wherever you go. Best of luck to you, “Muskingum.”

Tho' vanquished he could argue still

ROBERT JOHN MAYBERRY

"Bob," "Cranberries," "Sunkist," "Rusty"

Technical Course

Favorite Expression: "You betcha my life." Favorite Occupation: Coaxing Lizzie along. Ambition: Civil Engineer.

"Rusty" was the unassuming youth who quietly passed up the first years of High School and then burst into a peppy Senior, socially and scholastically. Quiet, but with a keen wit and a sharp knowledge, "Sunkist" has won his way into the hearts of his classmates.

"Cranberries" was not an athlete but as a debater, he certainly knew his stuff, his startling oratory completely out-pointed his rivals. His ambitious nature is not to be denied, and it is this quality which will bring "Sunkist" to a realization of his hopes.

"Bob's" next stopping place is Northeastern, and wherever he goes his good nature will make him many friends, and the class of which he is a member wishes him the best of luck in every venture.

A youth of speed and dash

JAMES PAUL McDONALD

"Jimmy," "Ike," "Ikey," "Jinx"

College Course

Inter-Class Dramatics 1-2-3. Minstrel Show 3-4. Senior Show. Class Ring Committee. Junior Prom Committee. Class Book Staff. Manager C. H. S. Football Team, 1927. Class Football 1-2-3-4. Track 3

Favorite Expression: "Oh, such a headache!" Favorite Occupation: Reading "Skippy." Ambition: Be a "tar."

Aha! Here he is, McDonald, the man with the pep, "Bickley's right hand man"—for we cannot forget his acting of that part in the Senior Show.

For the past four years, "Ike" has taken part in class activities and has been a success in whatever he has undertaken; dramatics, studies, or whate'er you will.

He has shone in dramatics especially. Each year he has held the lead in Inter-Class Dramatics, and even showed his skill as a playwright, when he wrote our Junior Inter-Class play. And what a collection of testimonials he must have, for he always managed to get three or four each quarter!

"Ike" did not make any of the varsity teams, but in the Inter-Class games he directed the team, tackled, and threw forwards a la "Death" Dooley. Oh, yes, lest we forget, he was some shortstop too!

Some day we may read of Admiral McDonald directing the Atlantic Fleet in its manoeuvres in the Pacific, for our would-be "Gob" is trying hard to win an appointment to Annapolis. Go to it, "Ike," the wishes of the whole class are with you.

The blush is beautiful,
but it is sometimes inconvenient

JOSEPH WALTER McINTYRE

“Joe,” “Mac”

College Course

Class Football 1-2-3. Class Baseball 2-3. Junior Prom Committee.
Minstrel Show 3. Varsity Football Squad 4. Editor-in-Chief of Class Book

Favorite Expression: “Whaddyamean?” Favorite Occupation: Reading. Ambition: Lawyer.

Here is the boy to whom we owe the success of our class book. Joe is our editor-in-chief and he has done much to lighten the task of making this book a success. He is one of our very popular classmates. He is also popular with the teachers, though he doesn’t wear wings.

“Mac” seems quiet to a lot of us in school, but when the shades of night fall fast on Cedar Hill, Joe calls his bandits together and—nuff said.

“Mac” was the savior of our Latin class. He always did his work and he never failed to gladly pass it along to us dumb ones. He surely saved the commonwealth many times. Joe made many trips to the library and he often was met there by—well—that’s his business, isn’t it?

“Joe” was an active participant in all our class activities and was always on the inside when any sly ones were pulled in class.

“Joe” has decided to enter Holy Cross in the fall. Our best wishes for success go with our editor and friend of ’27.

I'm not denying the women are foolish

WILLIAM JOSEPH McMAHON

"Bingo"

College Course

Treasurer 1-2-3-4. Varsity Football 1-2-3. Varsity Baseball 1-2-3-4. Varsity Basketball 1-2-4. Inter-Class Basketball 3. Inter-Class Football 4. Junior Dance Committee. Junior Prom Committee. Minstrel Show 4

Favorite Expression: "Watch that outfielder chase that one!" Favorite Occupation: Athletics. Ambition: Lawyer.

The stands are hushed—the crucial moment has come—we need a home run, a basket, a touchdown or we have to cop the 100—the cheer leader shrieks through his megaphone—the thousands rise and—here's to "Bingo"—our premier athlete, Rah! Rah! Rah!

"Bingo" is one of our most popular classmates and best scholars. He is one of our sly jokers. No one ever saw him get caught but he is our premier joker, too. "Bingo" hails from the Acre and is so expensive his father called him "Bill."

"Bingo" is our class treasurer, too. What! Is there no limit to this youth's possibilities? He is our ideal classmate—our athlete, our treasurer, our scholar, our friend! "Bill" is also a fine actor. Remember him as the interlocutor in our "Minstrel Show?"

"Bingo" is quiet on the surface, but when practice is over we all know Wilbur Matchett has nothing on him when it comes to handling the fair ones.

"Bingo" is to continue his studies at Fordham. "Bill" carries with him our best wishes for continued success.

The mildest manners and the gentlest heart

MARY ANGELA McNAMARA

"Mackie"

Normal Course

Hiking Club 1. A. A. 4. Gym Pageant

Favorite Expression: "Too bad; ain't it awful." Favorite Occupation: Rushin'. Ambition: To own the Strand.

In speaking of Mary we don't know where to start. Perhaps the first thing we should say is that she is liked by everyone. Who could not love that sweet little impish face? We conclude—no one.

"Mackie" is another one of us who races the clock. For whoever saw Mary early?

Mary is our idea of being obliging. She never refused to help any of us who needed it, especially when, through no fault of ours—of course—we had not found time for our homework—and we needed the important points in a hurry. Of course, this works both ways.

If you go to Clinton's leading theater, "The Strand," you will find that Mary makes a cute little usher there, and she certainly can show you your place.

"Mackie" intends to go to Worcester Normal School and we know that if patience and disposition count for anything in a teacher's position, and we know they are the main points—then "Mackie" will surely succeed. Adieu, Mary, '27's best wishes go with you.

A sweet little Maiden is she

HELEN IRENE McQUOID

"Mac"

Normal Course

Hiking Club 1-2. A. A. 4. Gym Pageant. Glee Club 3-4.
Gym Exhibition 2-3.

Favorite Expression: "My Stars!" Favorite Occupation: "Sleeping." Ambition: "To visit Shanghai."

Helen is one of our gay, merry girls. Her cheerful disposition and her never fading smile caused her to become a favorite in whatever group she might be in. This is proven by the groups which gathered 'round her desk before class, especially those containing members of the opposite sex.

Helen is one of those fortunate persons who have a great talent for music. She can sing divinely; as to her playing the piano, well, in a few more years we won't be at all surprised when we see our Helen in grand opera.

Helen believed in getting by everywhere and she certainly did, for at our socials she never lacks a partner. But, though Helen was prominent in our social world, still she was also there when it came to lessons. Helen shone especially in "Dump" where some one else often feared her as her rival.

Her plans are for Worcester Normal and we know by the amount of friends she has in High that she won't have any trouble making friends in the future. Best of luck, Helen, from 1927.

"Music hath charms"

ANNA MARIE MESSENGER

"Anna May"

Normal Course

Vice President 2-3-4. Junior Prom Committee. Dramatics 3.

Glee Club 4. Minstrel Show 3-4

Favorite Expression: "O! Nifty." Favorite Occupation: "Ticklin' the Ivories." Ambition: "To make everybody happy."

Who doesn't know "our little Anna?" Anna is one of the class luminaries; Quiet, modest, and sincere, she has become a favorite among us, and has held the office of vice-president for three years.

Socially, Anna is one of the brightest stars in the firmament. She delights in music with jazz as her specialty. Being one of our most prominent musicians, "Anna May" can play the piano backwards, sideways, and up-side-down. Even the furniture would rise up and go through the intricate steps of the latest fantastic, when Anna starts tickling the ivories. Anna is a favorite particularly among the boys of the class, for she is gifted with a gay spirit that appeals to the masculine heart.

Bidding you farewell, Anna, we know that, with your cheerful disposition, the world will welcome you with enthusiasm.

Silence is golden

BEATRICE TERESA MORRISON

“Be,” “Morrie”

Normal Course

Basketball Team 3-4. Minstrel 3-4. Tea Dance Committee 3
Glee Club. Hiking Club

Favorite Expression: “Don’t Kid yourself.” Favorite Occupation: Playing basketball. Ambition: Somebody’s Teacher.

Shh! Who’s this we hear coming? Oh! It’s our basketball fan.

Though we have met many acquaintances, our minds are refreshed by pleasant memories when we think of “Be.” She is the “life of the party” because she is always laughing and joking. We can always remember her as looking at things on the sunny side of life. It is this that has endeared her to all her classmates.

By her carefree ways, one might conclude that “B. T.” couldn’t find time to study but on the contrary, she studied and her recitations proved it. And say,—talk about debating—she has Daniel Webster beat a mile. Ask a certain teacher. He knows!

“Bea” is quite a shark at basketball for she sure can pass the ball and she always has an eagle eye for the basket.

“B. T.” expects to go to Framingham Normal but whatever life, and the world hold for her, we know both will be used as stepping stones to a successful career.

Oh, I'm the sheik

FREDERICK EMMET MURPHY, JR.

"Freddie," "Fritz"

Technical Course

Orchestra 1-2-3-4. Minstrel Show 3-4. Inter-Class Football 3-4.
Inter-Class Baseball 3-4. Junior Prom Committee. Junior Dance Committee

Favorite Expression: "Make your Bow." Favorite Occupation:
Driving E. E. Gray's "Nag." Ambition: Banana Merchant.

In every class there is a Beau Brummel and in ours we have a real fellow and a Beau Brummel.

"Freddie" is certainly a delight to any class list. Of course, "Freddie" has his failings, chief of which is an abnormal appetite for work (not)! He is the "champion clog dancer" of his class and never misses any class entertainment.

"Freddie's" catching ability earned him the position of regular catcher on our Junior Inter-Class baseball team.

Whether it's a class activity or athletic games you will always find
"Fritz" there, with his ready wit, willing at all times to add his humor, so sparkling and original.

Musician? Oh yes, "Freddie" plays the violin with great ease.
"Freddie's" plans for the future are indefinite but we know that whatever he takes up he will be a success.

For a woman is only a woman,
But a good cigar is a smoke.

THOMAS FRANCIS MURPHY

"Thorn," "Shel," "Erick"

College Course

Inter-Class Baseball 3. Inter-Class Football 3. Varsity Football 4.
Varsity Baseball 4

Favorite Expression: "Don't tempt me." Favorite Occupation: Studying? Ambition: Teacher.

And now we come to "Shel," the first string guard of the 1927 football team. His work in the Gardner game will be remembered by all the fans who saw it. He starred also in the Milford game.

"Thorn" has a genial disposition, and his abundant good nature makes him a great favorite with all, particularly with the ladies, though he has never shown any signs of favoritism.

"Tom" was a student and a Latin shark (laugh that one off). In fact his skill in Latin makes even himself believe that he will some day be a professor of Classics to the effect, "How NOT to Learn Latin," correspondence course conducted by the great authority, Prof. T. Murphy.

Farewell, "Murph," may your future days be bright is the wish of '27.

The word impossible is not in my dictionary

EDWARD JOSEPH MURRMAN

"Ned"

College Course

Varsity Baseball 2-3-4. Varsity Football 4. Varsity Basketball 4. Inter-Class Football 2-3. Inter-Class Basketball 3. Inter-Class Dramatics 1-2-3-4. Senior Show. Junior Prom Committee. Minstrel Show 3-4. Class Book Staff

Favorite Expression: "Everybody Happy!!!" Favorite Occupation: Taking Exams. Ambition: Surgeon.

When, in time to come, past remembrances will be shaded by passing years, the memory of "Ned" will be as clear as ever. His humor gained for him the best friends and his friends consist of the whole class.

The fans will always remember "Ed's" work on the diamond for two seasons, where he has shown a real brand of baseball ability, and little need be said of his prowess in football and basketball.

Not only was "Ned" attentive to studies, but his ability in dramatics is well known. In classes he was never found wanting; he was always conscientious in his work.

If "Ned" enters into the spirit of future enterprises as enthusiastically as he did those in Clinton High, his conquest for fame is assured.

The best wishes of '27 are with you, "Ned."

A lion among ladies is a most dreadful thing

PHILIP THOMAS O'MALLEY

"Phiddy"

College Course

Football 2-3-4. Baseball 1-2-3-4. Basketball 1-2-3-4. Track 4. Inter-Class
Basketball 3. Inter-Class Dramatics 1-2-3. Senior Show

Favorite Expression: "Hot Spit." Favorite Occupation: Inventing—(excuses). Ambition: Engineer.

Out with the lights—a hush in the theatre—up with the curtain—
here's our "Phiddie"—'27's proudly adopted son. "Phiddie" is our finest actor as well as our foremost athlete.

Remember "Phid's" 95 yard run for the only score of the Milford game? "Phiddie" is our crack miler and is captain of our baseball team.
He was high scorer on our basketball team. We are all proud of "Phil," even though he is not rightfully one of '27. He has been with us however since the first day we entered H. S.

"Phiddie" is our greatest humorist—he fairly bubbles over with humor—he is one of the most popular boys in C. H. S.—"Phiddie" never worried about testimonials—he has never yet been found guilty of burning midnight oil—but his witty replies have made him a big favorite with the teachers. "Phiddie" is our real high school pal—athlete, actor and humorist.

"Phil" is headed for Exeter in the fall. We are sure that he will continue to thrill the thousands on the athletic field and in the theater.
Best of Luck, "Phil," from your friends of '27.

Make love while the moonshines

FRANCIS AUSTIN O'TOOLE

"Barney," "Frank"

College Course

Inter-Class Football 4. Minstrel Show 3-4. Inter-Class Baseball 4.
Orchestra 2-3-4

Favorite Expression: "Kum on." Favorite Occupation: Driving an' "Ark." Ambition: A drummer in Paul Whiteman's.

Frank, the tallest member of our class and every inch of him a regular fellow, is one of the peppiest and best natured friends of his fellow classmates.

"Barney," as he is better known to all, is one of the most gifted musicians in the class. Anyone would know he knew his "beets" if they saw him seated behind his set of drums. "Barney" and the other members of his band furnish "jazz" for lots of dances in and out of town.

"Barney" can also "shake a mean heel" at a dance; and being a popular boy with the girls, all his dances are favored.

And when it comes to appearance, "Frankie" has "it." Wherever "Frank" goes he makes a very good appearance, being one of the best groomed members of the class.

"Frankie" plans to enter Georgetown University in the fall and we know he will succeed as he did during his four years with our class. Lots of Luck, "Barney."

Such a one as everyone should wish to be

EVELYN BARBARA PEINERT

“Ev,” “Evie”

Normal Course

Class Ring Committee. Class Book Staff. Representative to Women's Club. Historical Society 4. Gym Pageant

Favorite Expression: “I’ll say!” Favorite Occupation: Playing Tennis. Ambition: To climb the Alps.

The teachers were always delighted to have Evelyn in their classes because they recognized in her a girl who would work and to whom success could not fail to come. Evelyn was a “shark” in Chemistry and English and her brilliant answers in these classes often astounded us and reproached us with our own ignorance. Latin was another of “Evie’s” specialties.

Evelyn was one of those whose presence honored the Holder Memorial on certain Monday evenings. Not only that, but “Evie” was also one of two girls who were selected as representatives to the Women’s Club. I hope you haven’t got the idea that “Eve” was high-brow because I’ve still to meet a jollier girl than our “Ev.”

Evelyn intends to be a nurse and we are certain that she will succeed for we can picture her, dressed in white, bending over a hospital bed, administering some new serum which she discovered and which has become world-famous.

Well, “Evie,” we know that it’s of no use to wish you luck because luck sure will follow you whether we wish it or not. So we’ll say “Lebwohl” with the assurance that you are one that we’ll never forget.

My life is full of gaiety

AGNES GERTRUDE PHILBIN

“Aggie,” “Phil”

Commercial Course

Hiking Club 2-3-4. Glee Club 3-4

Favorite Expression: “Stay up.” Favorite Occupation: Working.
Ambition: A Nurse.

Upon first appearance Agnes seems to be a quiet demure girl, but those who know her testify differently. All of which goes to prove that old proverb, “Appearances are often deceitful.”

“Aggie” is quite a favorite among her classmates and friends. Many an afternoon after 3.30 Agnes can be seen in the Study Hall surrounded by a group of classmates. This, of course, happened before Mr. Mitchell began to close the gates at 3.15 sharp.

“Phil” intends to become a nurse and we can assuredly say that she will succeed in her chosen profession as she possesses all the necessary qualifications for this vocation. Perhaps in the future we may be administered to by the gentle hands of Agnes. Best of luck, “Phil,” may your future days be as sunny as those you spent within the portals of dear old C. H. S.

"A tiny, tiny, voice have I!"

CATHERINE ELEANOR PHILBIN

"Katie," "Caddie"

College Course

Hiking Club 1-2. Gym Pageant. A. A. 1-2-3-4. Senior Show

Favorite Expression: "Clever!" Favorite Occupation: "Arguing my exact height." Ambition: To go to Europe.

Who needs an introduction to Catherine? No one! I thought so! Who would need one after listening in up at Study Hall either before, after, or during school hours. "Caddie's" our critic, and she sure would be a valuable asset to any Censor Board. But we all know that "Katie" says more than she means so "All's well, that ends well."

We little knew of "Katie's" dramatic talent until she appeared as Mrs. Nelson-Dodd in the Senior Show. We know that if Catherine continues her career behind the foot lights she will soon become a second Sarah Bernhardt.

"Caddie" is one of the tallest members of '27 and every inch of her height is full of fun.

She is also a frequent attender at the athletic games played under school management.

We have heard many rumors about the gay repartee which takes place every P. M. between "Caddie" and our "petite instructrice dans la salle huit de l'ecole Clinton High." We wonder just what does transpire there!

Catherine's having quite a difficult time picking out the college which she will honor with her presence. But '27 knows, that whichever one she does land in, she'll certainly prove a success. "May luck and success follow you," is the wish of '27.

A daughter of the gods, divinely tall and most divinely fair

ELIZABETH ABIGAIL PLUMMER

"Betty"

General Course

Minstrel 3-4. A. A. 3-4. Glee Club 3-4

Favorite Expression: "Good Gravey." Favorite Occupation: "Reaching the high ones." Ambition: To help others.

"Betty" was one of our sunny dispositioned girls, and a real blonde. She was also one of the best singers in our class, this being proven at the Thanksgiving Minstrel. A slight explanation of "Betty's" favorite occupation may be inserted—"Betty" means she's trying to rival Galli-Curci.

Anything pertaining to nursing always interested "Betty" for, we know, that is the profession which she intends to enter. We are certain she will be a success in this for we have many times witnessed little kindnesses and little friendly things which "Betty" has done. Don't we wish we were the patients?

"Betty" likes basketball and most all sports. We are sure that, by the love of good sportsmanship which must result from such contact, that her future success in any profession is assured. In particular, we are sure that "Betty" is going to do some "big" thing in the nursing profession, that will make all the members of our class be delighted to point out her name and boast that she was a member of 1927. We hope that endless success and boundless happiness will accompany her.

Altho' small, I am noted for my smile

ANNA JOSEPHINE RANIERI

"Angel," "Blondie"

Commercial Course

Glee Club 3-4. Hiking Club 1-2. Minstrel Show 3

Favorite Expression: "Did you do your Stenog?" Favorite Occupation: "Chewing Gum." Ambition: "Somebody's Stenog?"

We all know about Anna without writing her history here. She is one of those cute dark-blondes, just the kind "Gentlemen Prefer."

Anna as you will notice is a member of the "clan" in the back. The girls up there think it their duty to tease her (just because she blushes) about some outside social affair. I might mention that she is at quite a few of these social functions, and some aren't connected with the school at all.

In introducing Anna, I might say, "Ladies and Gentlemen, step right up and see the wonder of the 'Stenog department,'" for she sure is a "shark" at transcribing her notes, and it is to her the rest of the class go with their notebooks when they get stuck.

We wonder how "Angel" gets her lessons, because we know she doesn't burn the "midnight oil." However, Anna wasn't worried in the morning so we concluded that they were done. Nor were there any wrinkles on "Angel's" fair brows, the mornings after her work at Grant's.

"Angel Face's" favorite occupation is strolling up the road, and as we know she doesn't stroll alone, we're wondering who the lucky fellow is.

Anna intends to go to Bryant & Stratton's to learn how to be the manager of a department store, and we know that in her chosen profession she will win fame.

For he was a Gentyll Knyght

HAROLD EDWARD JAMES ROBINSON

"Robbie"

College Course

Favorite Expression: "I'll bite, what?" Favorite Occupation: Canoeing. Ambition: Sell strong tonic.

And now we come to "Robbie"—and we are somewhat at a loss how to begin. Harold joined our ranks this year and cast his lot among the sophomores in Room I, for a home room. We can hardly blame him though for in spite of all our prayers for an elevator to the hall it hasn't materialized as yet and he saved himself many steps by staying where he did.

However, our elevated position in the school didn't phase him any and judging by the cluster of testimonials he collected every quarter he must be ranked with the best in the class in scholastic ability.

We know that he will never forget the History to 1700 class—where he learned more facts, both real and imaginary, than we thought one class could mention.

"Robbie" has taken the college course and has decided that Tufts College will be the scene of his future activities.

We need only combine the class motto of a few years ago with ours to describe Harold's outlook on life. "Deeds, not words," and "Sincerity and Service," are mottoes which have no failings and if "Robbie" follows their aim in the future as he has in the past—well, we will let the readers judge for themselves just what we mean when we use the slang expression, "It won't be long now."

I laugh, for hope hath happy place within me

DOROTHY SAUNDERS

“Dot,” “Dottie”

College Course

Glee Club 3-4. Minstrel Show 4

Favorite Expression: “You would! You’re just the type!” Favorite Occupation: Yawning. Ambition: Somebody’s Stenog.

“Dot” was a late addition to our class, joining us in our Junior year. But are we glad she came? Well, we’ll just tell the world we are.

That “Dottie” is popular is shown by the way the boys all crowd around to dance with her at any social party. A fellow had to have that privilege engaged ahead of time or else he was out of luck. And can she dance? She sure can make those “dogs” bark and we don’t mean “maybe.”

“Dot” is some little racer. She races the clock twice each day and somehow she always wins the race.

But “Dear Dot” wherever your destination may be, ’27 will always remember you as one of its shining lights and we wish you the best of luck in your chosen profession.

The past unsighted for, the future sure

EDWARD FRANCIS SCANLON

"Ed," "Gene"

College Course

President 2. Chairman Class Ring Committee 2. Chairman Class Day 2.
Inter-Class Dramatics 3. Junior Prom Committee. Class Book Staff.
Inter-Class Baseball 2-3-4. Track 3. Minstrel Show 3-4.

Favorite Expression: "No kiddin'!" Favorite Occupation: Dishing out "hot dogs." Ambition: To find out why elephants don't have nose-bleeds.

We consider ourselves very fortunate to have "Ed" with us during our four years of high school. Immediately after his appearance in High School he established an enviable reputation as a scholar.

But to think of "Gene" merely as a student is to overlook his greatest claim to our respect, for his sincerity, loyalty and constant humor make him a priceless friend.

As a track man of quality, "Ed" quickly won a place on the squad. Being a great participator in athletics, he joined our class baseball team and became one of our best representatives in that sport.

We can also attribute the success of our social events to "Gene's" untiring labor.

"Gene" intends to enter B. U. Law School and '27 feels sure that abundant success awaits him.

O'er her warm cheek moves the bloom of young desire

HARRIET AURELIA SOUTHWICK

"Harry"

College Course

Gym Exhibition. Hiking Club. A. A. 4

Favorite Expression: "You'd be surprised!" Favorite Occupation: "Learning to Drive." Ambition: Teaching.

Harriet? No! There is no need to describe her, for she's one of our most prominent girls as she still wears her long, golden brown tresses. Don't be mistaken, she's not prominent only with regard to her long hair, and she's not one bit prim or conservative, for, oh my! . . . "Harry's" tales of the night before make one sit up and take notice. You'd be surprised is right! Lately "Harry" has started out to learn to drive. I wonder why?

She is always merry, whether slipping into her seat twenty minutes past eight with an eye on Jack Mitchell, or receiving a smiling "C'est assez bien, mademoiselle." Although we don't know how serious it is we know "Harry" is a great athletic fan, this is especially noticeable in baseball, to be more specific she is interested in, (well, let us say), the art of pitching. Wonder if anything lies below the surface?

Harriet intends to go to "North Adams Normal School." Though it's hard to imagine her teaching her little charges, we know she'll be a success. The best wishes of the class of 1927 attend you, Harriet.

A silent creature—thoughtful, grave, sincere

HAZEL IRENE SPIELVOGEL

"Speedy"

Hiking Club 1-2. Glee Club 3-4. Gym Pageant 2. Art Department of Class Book

Favorite Expression: "Hey, Listen." Favorite Occupation: Sketching. Ambition: Piano Player.

Hazel is one who is quite hard to write-up. Not because of Hazel's fault but because of our own lack of vocabulary. Rather quiet, at least so appearances would indicate. But then we can't depend on appearances.

Hazel is noted for her skill in drawing, being practically the only member of '27 who might truly be called original.

"Speedy" intends to become a teacher and in preparing for this she plans to go to Fitchburg Normal. We know that her pleasant smile and cheerful manner will endear her to all her pupils, and more than one of us wishes that we might start in again with such a teacher as Hazel.

'27 wishes you luck, "Speedy," in your chosen profession and you may be sure that we will always remember you, as we hope you will always remember us, in the happy future that is opening before you.

We that have good wits have much to answer for JOSIAH STICKNEY, JR.

"Bub," "Clyde" "Jynx"

College Course

Varsity Football 4. Class Football 3. Inter-Class Baseball 3. Junior Prom Committee. Inter-Class Dramatics 3. Class Book Staff. Stage Manager 4. Minstrel Show 3

Favorite Expression: "Not on the head, poppa." Favorite Occupation: Reading "Skippy." Ambition: To be a M. D.

Here is "Bub," our prominent stage manager. This young fellow would prefer shifting scenes to acting before the footlights. However, when "Bub" was assistant manager it was the style for the manager to shift the scenes, and when he became manager the assistant was the big painting and scene lifter.

"Bub" is one of our unexpected humorists. He has a humor all of his own. He is always with us yet he is always apart from us. He is our class Spectator. "Bub" is noted for his quick and witty replies. Not even the teachers were spared and no one replies after "Bub" cracks wise.

"Clyde" surprised us in football and baseball when we organized our class teams. He was so good that he made the varsity in football in his senior year.

"Jynx" is to enter Dartmouth in the fall. We wish him the best of luck up in the wilds of New Hampshire.

All the world's a stage!

ALICE CECELIA TIERNEY

"Virgy"

College Course

Class Ring Committee. Junior Dance. Junior Prom. Food Sales.
Secretary of '27. 3-4. Inter-Class Dramatics 3-4. Minstrel Show 3-4.
Senior Show. Class Book Staff

Favorite Expression: "Take a squint at that, kids!" Favorite Occupation: Keeping the other kids from studying. Ambition: To be on time when I have a date with Peg.

Alice is our actress, and believe me, she's some actress. Mary Pickford had better look to her laurels or we'll soon hear that Alice has walked off with them. A glimpse at the drama section of Memorabilia will give you a better idea of Alice's acting ability than anything I could say.

Alice sure was popular when it came to the opposite sex, for did you ever see Alice without a partner at our socials? If you did you need to have your eyes examined!

All this does not mean that Alice was up against it when it came to class recitations. On the contrary, Alice being naturally bright, got along famously.

Alice's foremost characteristic was "pep," and it is upon her energy and enthusiasm that we base our predictions for her future rise. The charm that makes her the friend of all '27 will succeed in making friends of all whom she will meet in the future.

Alice's plans for the future are indefinite but that the years to come may bring nothing but success, is our sincere wish.

The better known the greater is her worth appreciated

TERESA MARY TONOLE

"Terry," "Tre"

Normal Course

Historical Society 4. Hiking Club 1-2. Gym Pageant 2. Assistant Editor-in-Chief of Class Book. Art Dept. of Class Book.
Representative to Women's Club 4

Favorite Expression: "Well—maybe." Favorite Occupation: "Talking to 'His Nibs.'" Ambition: To Visit the Moon.

One of the few students who really knew how to study was Teresa. She was always at the head of the class and was always ready to help us less fortunate ones who frequently besought "Tre" after a night spent blissfully unaware of homework. Her specialty was U. S. History and in that class she shone brightly. But History was not the only class that Teresa was a star in for she was the highest in them all. "Terry" was also always willing to take a joke, and usually when we happened to glance her way, her eyes were gleaming with mischief.

"Terry" was one of the two girls who represented Clinton at the Women's Club, and we may add that both these girls were worthy representatives. She was also one of the ten pupils selected to be guests of the Historical Society and on the second Monday of each month one was sure to see Teresa holding down the end seat in the last row in the Lecture Room of the Holder Memorial Building.

Teresa intends to take up the modern languages in a four year course at Worcester Normal. We are sure that in these, she shall succeed; and we are also certain that we will always be as proud of her as we are now. Best Wishes, Teresa.

Glib of tongue and light of heart

SADIE LOUISE TOOLE

"Sade," "Too-hills"

Commercial Course

Junior Basketball Team. Hiking Club 1-2-3-4. Gym Exhibition.
Tea Dance Committees 3-4. A. A. 4. A. A. Food Sale Committee 3.
Class Book Staff

Favorite Expression: "What about it?" Favorite Occupation: Arguing. Ambition: Confidential Secretary.

Sadie is one of those quiet-looking girls, but, sometimes appearances are deceiving. That's the truth in her case. The bursts of merriment that frequently occur in the back of Study Hall, lend evidence to that saying. For Sadie is one of the "gang" and those who know her intimately, know that she is anything BUT quiet.

In basketball, Sadie made herself known to all who followed that sport. Her height gave her a decided advantage over the centers of opposing teams. Yes, she was our center, and it was due to her ability to tap the ball just right that we won the championship in our Junior Year.

Remember the "Calories" girls? They came from Sadie's unknown admirer; but they were welcomed even if we didn't know who he was.

It's quite a known fact that Sadie never hurries. Even if it's 8.15, she takes her time walking to school. The miracle of it is, she never is late! Let's hope she keeps that admirable quality of "Never being late" in her life to come. If she does this, we'll be sure she'll succeed.

Sadie intends to become a teacher. The pupils who in later life call her "Teacher" will be most fortunate, so '27 thinks, and everyone who comes in contact with Sadie will agree with us, I'm sure.

What bell was that? Ah me!

TERESA ANNA WELCH

“Tweeta Wah,” “Smiles”

Normal Course

Glee Club 4. Hiking Club 3-4. Minstrel Show 3-4

Favorite Expression: “You Scither.” Favorite Occupation: Holding Hands. Ambition: Succeeding as somebody’s better half.

“Smiles” entered the portals of C. H. S. one bright September morning all afeared and trembling but she soon turned out to be a real “live wire.” Teresa is one of those bright smiling girls whose winning personality endears her to the hearts of all who might meet her. “Tweeta” always managed to reach her seat just ten seconds after the tardy bell sounded. We often wondered if the night before had anything to do with it.

Oh, yes, Teresa is a great sport. Then, too, when “Smiles” laughs we all laugh with her. Although Teresa is a real joker she sure can be serious when reciting a memory passage and, can she recite one? Well, “nuff sed.”

“Tweeta Wah” intends to honor Sargent’s School of Physical Education with her presence; and you can take it from me that they’re lucky to get her. Teresa’s smiling face would be a welcome asset anywhere; and we know that “Tweeta Wah” will be one whose name will always fall with pride from our lips.—for wasn’t Teresa cut out for success? We’ll say she was! Farewell, “Smiles.” Lots of luck.

Class History

Freshmen

At 8.15 one September morning in 1923 we made our entrance into Clinton High School.

During the first year of our High School life we didn't elect any class officers, a thing quite different from the upper classes' histories.

In the Inter-Class Dramatic contest our presentation was "Mr. Dooley" and we felt very much grown up when we made our first appearance before the public. Although our offering didn't win the cup or even second place in the contest it showed that the Class of '27 had some talented actors and actresses.

The Freshmen were deprived of the privilege of going on a class picnic that year which was a bitter disappointment to all of us.

It seemed that we were hardly acquainted with one another when we were separated by our summer vacation but we looked forward to meeting each other again as—

Sophomores

The first big event of our Sophomore year was the election of our class officers who were: Edward Scanlon, president; Anna Messenger, vice-president; Louise Fontana, secretary; William McMahon, treasurer. The second event was the choosing of our class colors which were crimson and silver; the third was the choosing of our class rings. These were of an odd but pretty design.

The show we presented in the Inter-Class Dramatic contest this year was "Trash," played by a splendid cast of actors. The Seniors won over us by a very slight margin, but we will always be proud of our presentation.

The last event of our Sophomore year was our class picnic. This was held at Whalom and Mr. Dyer acted as our chaperon. A most enjoyable time was had by all and it was with sorrow in our hearts that we parted for our summer vacation. When we met again we were—

Juniors

The officers we elected for our Junior year were: Thomas McNally, president; Anna Messenger, vice-president; Alice Tierney, secretary, and William McMahon, treasurer.

One of the success events of this year was the Junior Dance, the proceeds of which went towards our Junior Prom.

As Juniors, we were also very successful in athletics, both boys and girls winning the Inter-Class Basketball Championships.

Our presentation in the Inter-Class Dramatic contest was "Give Me Time," written by a member of the class. It was excellently presented.

Then came what we had all been looking forward to since the beginning of the year, OUR JUNIOR PROM. We can truthfully say that it was the most successful prom held for a long time. The decorations were beautiful and the music for dancing, furnished by Anson Smith's Orchestra, pleased everyone.

Our class picnic was again held at Whalom, Miss Kerrigan acting as our chaperon. We parted for our summer vacation, most of us to return and join each other as—

Seniors

We could hardly believe that it was our last year together in Clinton High.

At our first class meeting, Raymond Duvarney was elected president of '27 and the other officers remained unchanged.

Our Senior Show was "Take My Advice," and the cast received much praise for the way they "put it over."

In the Inter-Class Dramatics we put on "Malted Milk and Marcia," which was well presented.

Finally we started our preparations for graduation. Memorabilia, Pictures, Invitations, Class Day, Bacculareate, Banquet and Prom—all piled in on us without a stop. Lastly came GRADUATION.

And so we part, most of us to continue our education in higher schools. But wherever we may go or whatever we may do our thoughts will turn back to the happy days we spent with our teachers and schoolmates at Clinton High.

ATHLETICS

VARSITY FOOTBALL TEAM

Football

When one considers the 1926 football team in the light of victories and defeats the record of this year's eleven was not an enviable one. Nevertheless to carry on in the face of defeat is one of the best attributes of sportsmanship and after all it is that spirit of good sportsmanship which is the goal of all athletics.

Coach McCaffery brought his charges through the preliminary stages of the season with admirable rapidity. The thoroughness of his training in the teaching of assignments being very evident in the very first game.

In the opener with Classical High of Worcester, Clinton looked great, both offensively and defensively, but three unfortunate fumbles turned victory into defeat.

A large delegation of Clinton people went to Leominster for the second game, but the boys couldn't seem to get started and the weight and experience of the rivals determined the outcome.

Northbridge had a strong team but Clinton had the spirit and fight and held them to a scoreless tie. This game, more than any other, showed the potential strength of the team.

We will now skip to the Milford game and for the first time in three years Milford was forced to acknowledge defeat in the annual Thanksgiving Classic. All the fumbles, etc., had been left at home that day and the team put up an exhibition long to be remembered by followers of High School sports.

Captain O'Connell, Burke, Murphy, Heimer, P. Kerrigan, Murrman, O'Malley and J. Kerrigan were our class's contribution to the squad and needless to say all of these boys of '27 did their part in every contest.

At the banquet letters were presented to the following:

Capt. John O'Connell	'27	Edward Murrman	'27
Edward Goodwin	'28	Clarke Weisman	'29
Thomas Murphy	'27	Michael Schusta	'29
Arthur Heimer	'27	Philip O'Malley	'27
Gerald Carlisle	'30	Robert Irvine	'29
Walter Burke	'27	Thomas Duggan	'29
Donald Child	'28	James Kerrigan	'27
James McNally	'28	Irvin Long	'28
Frank O'Toole	'29	John McNally	'29
Patrick Kerrigan	'27	Dexter Goss	'29

Manager, James McDonald '27

Results of Games played were:

Oct. 2	Clinton High 7, Classical High	20
Oct. 12	Clinton High 6, Leominster High	25
Oct. 16	Clinton High 0, Northbridge High	0
Oct. 23	Clinton High 0, Worcester Trade	10
Oct. 30	Clinton High 6, Athol High	7
Nov. 13	Clinton High 6, St. John's High	18
Nov. 20	Clinton High 0, Gardner High	16
Nov. 25	Clinton High 7, Milford High	0

INTER-CLASS FOOTBALL TEAM

Inter-Class Football

During our Junior and Senior years our class participated in all Inter-Class sports and our football teams were among the best in the Inter-Class contests. Our team during the Junior year was one of real championship calibre, its development being chiefly because of the interest Mr. McGrail took in it as coach. We cleaned up the Sophomores in grand style that year, but struck a stone wall in our contests with the Senior team, coached by Mr. Dyer. Our celebrated criss-cross play proved a boomerang because it was with that play that the 1926 Seniors gained their final victory over us.

The value of Inter-Class sports was proven this year when most of the stars of our Junior team saw active service with the varsity aggregation.

This year, as Seniors, under the tutelage of Mr. Dyer, we defeated both the Sophomores and the Junior team, coached by our mentor of last year, Mr. McGrail, and maintained the Senior prestige of former years.

The following members of 1927 were awarded class numerals for participation in the conflicts.

- McMAHON —left end, was the star linesman and was noted for his tackling ability and breaking up of end runs.
- BEDRICK —tackle, was a good defensive player, and his work under fire is worthy of note.
- DEVANEY —was the mainstay of the line, and his offensive ability paved the way for many a touchdown.
- HOWARD —playing center, excelled all others in his line and his steady passing is worthy of note.
- MATCHETT—was in the play every minute, and his brilliant interference contributed many a successful line smash.
- DUVARNEY—was speedy and his skill in handling forward passes earned him fame.
- McDONALD—outgeneraled all his opponents, and his headwork was a great part of the team's success.
- HAGER —half-back, was a good line plunger and also a sure tackle.
- KELLEY —the other half-back, was a competent thrower of forward passes, and good for skirting the ends.
- MURPHY —full-back, was a plucky fighter and his carrying of the ball was shown in many hard-fought games.
- O'TOOLE —was one of our ball carriers who could always be depended upon for a substantial gain.
- CASEY —proved a bulwark in the line and opened many holes for our backs to ride through.
- ALTMAN
BURGOYNE
JAQUITH
- } were the shock troops who truly gave the rival eleven a shock when they hit them.

VARSITY BASKETBALL TEAM

Basketball

Basketball was resumed this year as a varsity sport, there being no team to represent the school when we were Juniors. Lack of a suitable place to practice and play was the main factor in the dropping of the sport. This year, however, Coach McCattery succeeded in obtaining the Armory for our games. Although the team was handicapped by a late start, "Joe" succeeded in whipping the team into shape before the first game, the Inter-Class series of the previous year producing many members of this year's quintet.

During the absence of the regular coach because of illness, Mr. Dyer had charge of the team and although the boys lost their opener under his direction, they soon started their winning streak which continued until the Tech Tournament.

This year's team succeeded in annexing eight victories in ten starts, an enviable record and one which will stand for some time.

The members of the squad were:

- O'MALLEY '27—a regular from the 1925 team was high scorer of the year, and was a very reliable man.
 - DUGGAN '28—Captain of the five, alternated at forward and guard, playing each with exceptional skill.
 - JOYCE '28—was a worthy running mate of O'Malley and was not far behind in the scoring column.
 - CHILD '28—playing center, usually got the tap, and showed up well both on offense and defense.
 - DUNN '28—had a good eye for the basket, and his long shots were the despair of the opposition.
 - KERRIGAN '27—was a hard guard to pass by. "Paddy" must be considered as one of the best in school history.
 - MURRMAN '27—was fast and a good shot, and could be depended upon at any time.
 - McNALLY '28—alternating at center and guard, was a strong performer in either position.
 - LONG '28—was a cool and heady player, never missing a close-up shot.
 - BURKE '27
 - HEIMER '27
 - O'TOOLE '29
- } were the three capable substitutes who saw plenty of action.

Following are the results of the games:

January	12	Clinton 15,	Leominster High School	20
January	21	Clinton 23,	Fitchburg Normal School 2d,	20
January	28	Clinton 33,	Maynard High School	9
February	4	Clinton 34,	Becker's Business College	18
February	11	Clinton 33,	Alumni	30
February	16	Clinton 15,	Fitchburg Business College	11
February	23	Clinton 30,	Leominster High School	20
February	25	Clinton 36,	Shrewsbury High School	20
March	11	Clinton 2,	North High, Worcester	24
March	18	Clinton 30	Maynard High School	16

BOYS' INTER-CLASS BASKETBALL TEAM

Inter-Class Basketball

During our Junior year, since there was to be no varsity basketball team, because of a suitable playing surface, an Inter-Class League was formed, under the supervision of Mr. Dyer and Mr. McGrail. We should say two leagues were formed for the first teams were composed of all those of varsity calibre, while the second team league consisted of the rest of the candidates.

Our teams were coached by Mr. McGrail and despite the stiff opposition of the Senior teams, our classmates succeeded in winning the championship in both leagues.

The first team was composed of, for the most part, former varsity stars and, led by Captain McMahon, swept on to victory, without a defeat. Those who played in most of these games were Cambridge c, McMahon l. f., O'Malley r. f., Murrman l. g., Burke r. g., with T. Murphy and "Paddy" Kerrigan as worthy substitutes.

The second team league, however, produced the closer contests but, we finally defeated the Seniors in a hectic 11-10 battle, the victory giving us the Championship.

The second team was made up with "Paddy" Kerrigan and "Tommy" Henighan, forwards; Connelly, center; and Bedrick and Hager as guards. Burgoyne, Ball and Altman were the boys who could be depended upon in times of necessity.

During our Senior year, varsity basketball was again resumed and the Inter-Class League was discontinued. This was considered advisable because of the difficulties in playing in our gymnasium, its size, posts and low ceiling comprising the many obstacles to good basketball. However, our class did not remain idle in this sport for we contributed five members to the varsity squad.

GIRLS' INTER-CLASS BASKETBALL TEAM

Girls' Inter-Class Basketball Team

The girls of '27 made their entrance on the field of sports in their Junior year. Under the able guidance of Miss Mary T. Gibbons they formed a class basketball team which gained a prominent place in the limelight of our athletic history. They were crowned Inter-Class champions, winning five games and losing but one, and that by a narrow margin. They had a very successful year and it was to their sorrow that they were unable to continue their good work in their Senior year.

Wilma Baer, our captain, playing left guard, proved a good all round player, and successfully captained her team to victory.

Playing right guard was "Bea" Morrison, a flashy and brilliant player, who always succeeded in capturing and returning the ball to our side of the court.

The position of left forward was played by Emma Jeffery, who proved to be a clever and sure basket getter.

To Pauline Jurentkuff holding down right forward position goes the honor of being a snappy and accurate basket-tosser.

The center, Sadie Toole, used her height to advantage by getting the high passes and putting the ball sometimes in the basket and other times in the hands of her confederates.

Our sub, "Betty" Irvine, won her numerals because of her ability to take the place of any girl when she was called upon to go into the game.

The other two girls, Mary E. Lavalley, and Irene Hendrickson, were ready to do their bit when needed, and took part in nearly every game.

Baseball

Although the baseball season is by no means near completion we are proud of our team this year and predict one of the brightest years in the baseball history of the school.

If one was present at the first few practice sessions it would undoubtedly raise a question of whether it was a High School or a college team that was in the making, as Coach "Joe" McCaffrey had forty-five candidates all looking for the positions left vacant by "Marty" Gibbons, "Harp" Flannagan, "Hank" Kerrigan, "Red" Kraft and others of last year's nine.

From this enthusiastic group of candidates, "Joe" selected sixteen of the most likely prospects and welded together a team which looks invincible in High School Circles.

Of these boys, we have Joyce '29, McMahon '27 and Duggan '29 as mound artists, and although the loss of "Marty" Gibbons will be felt, still these veterans will prove their worth. "Nippy" especially will bear watching and a great year is predicted for him. "Bingo" is without a doubt one of Clinton High's best products in the diamond and in those games in which he can play always takes care of his position. Duggan lacks pitching experience but is a valuable man on the squad because of his stickwork.

Capt. O'Connell '28 and Frank O'Toole '29 are the receivers who can be depended upon at all times. Both are veteran performers. James McNally '28 and Clarke Weisman '29 are the guardians of the initial sack and both saw service on last year's combination. "Paddy" Kerrigan '27 ends his High School career in a blaze of glory by scooping up anything around the keystone sack. We predict a brilliant future for "Paddy."

"Ned" Murrman '27 shifted to short this year and fits in the scheme of things nicely.

"Itchy" Long '28 and Siok '29 handle the hot corner assignments and although "Itch" has the call at present, Siok is certainly a comer.

Thomas Murphy '27, Chester Polewascyk '30, Leo Sorel '29, Ball '29, "Bill" O'Connell '28 and Shusta '29 comprise a set of gardeners who are hard to beat and with a little playing experience will patrol the fields in fine shape.

The boys have made a very good record to date, having won eight out of twelve games played. The schedule and results of games to the present writing follows:

April 19	Clinton High	7, Maynard High	1
April 20	Clinton High	15, Murdock High	11
April 27	Clinton High	9, Cushing Seconds	0
April 30	Clinton High	6, Leominster High	3
May 5	Clinton High	24, St. Mark's	4
May 7	Clinton High	1, Lawrence	6
May 14	Clinton High	21, Leominster High	1
May 18	Clinton High	4, Murdock High	3
May 25	Clinton High	, Fitchburg High,	Rain
May 28	Clinton High	4, St. John's High	6
May 30	Clinton High	4, Orange High	3
May 30	Clinton High	1, Athol High	2
June 1	Clinton High	2, Worcester Trade	4
June 4	Clinton High	, St. John's High
June 8	Clinton High	, Milford High
June 11	Clinton High	, Fitchburg High
June 15	Clinton High	, Maynard High
June 18	Clinton High	, Athol High
June 22	Clinton High	, Worcester Trade

To me it seems as if when God conceived the world, that was poetry; He formed it, and that was sculpture; He varied and colored it, and that was painting; and then, crowning all, He peopled it with living beings, and that was the grand, divine, eternal drama.

FRESHMAN SHOW (INTER-CLASS)

“Mr. Dooley”

CAST

Officer Dooley.....Philip O'Malley
Police Lieutenant Breed.....Irvin Long
Gladys Breed.....Agnes Durkin
Principal Lunt.....Edward J. Murrman
Edward Lunt, Jr. James McDonald

As Freshmen we launched the good ship “Drama of '27.” The ship was named, “Mr. Dooley,” and was built and rigged by Mr. John O'Malley, a Clinton man. The crew was composed of four boys and one girl and what a crew that was! In competition with the other ships we all but carried the cup, yielding only to the great Senior crew with their fine ship, “Oh Joy!”

The story is that of two high school lovers who are determined to hang a banner on class night despite the threat of expulsion by the principal to any one caught near the school. The boy is the son of the principal and the girl is the daughter of the lieutenant of police. Mr. Dooley is the officer watching the building. He catches the boy and allows him to escape. He is found out by the lieutenant and by the principal who demands the boy's name or Dooley's resignation. The boy and girl intervene to save Mr. Dooley. All promise to forget the incident and Mr. Dooley says that while honor is a great word, common sense are two great words and two can beat one any day.

“Trash”

CAST

The Bum.....Philip O'Malley
The Kid.....James McDonald
The Policeman.....Edward J. Murrman

Sophomores—and the good ship “Drama” once more sets her sails to the winds—something unique in High School Dramatics—a ship without a female aboard—truly it was a fine voyage. The good ship’s name was “Trash” and it was the finest ship we ever sailed on. Although she failed to gain the trophy for us, she received the popular victory.

“Trash” is a tragic comedy. It is the story of a bum—from all appearances a wreck upon the shores of humanity. The bum is dozing in an east-side park when a kid of seventeen enters. They become acquainted and the bum skillfully finds out that the boy is to enter on a career of crime. The youth is disgusted with life and has no desire to work. He has run away from his home. The bum with a philosophy that brings laughter to the lips and tears to the eyes makes the youth see his folly. In a rude and somewhat rough manner he sends the boy back to his home and with a deeper sense of his duty in life. An officer chides the bum for not working. The bum looks at himself and all things around him and in bitterness and wisdom murmurs, “Trash.”

JUNIOR SHOW (INTER-CLASS)

“Give Me Time!”

CAST

Jacob Stein	Irvin Long
Louis Wellington	Edward Murrman
Patrick O'Dare	Philip O'Malley
Frenchy	Edward Scanlon, Jr.
Dick Towlings, Jr.	James McDonald
Ruth	Alice Tierney
Alicia Stone	Anna Messenger
George Stone	Josiah Stickney, Jr.

The third cruise of the good ship “Drama” carried a crew of eight seasoned sailors, all shrieking, “Give Me Time,” a playlet written by James McDonald, who also enacted the leading role. The cruise was pleasing to the crew and to the audience. However we were humbled by the swift ship, “Lotus Flowers,” sailed by a fine Sophomore crew.

This play was a farce, telling of a young shoe company owner who is to marry the daughter of his principal rival. He has told her that he has never been interested in any other girl than herself and then he is confronted by a young woman who insisted that she is his wife. How he extricates himself from this predicament and how the father of the bride-to-be is exposed as a plotter forms a story of unusual interest. The acting was extremely good and the play proved very enjoyable.

SENIOR SHOW (INTER-CLASS)

“Malted Milk and Marcia”

CAST

Jason Flint.....	Edward J. Murrman
Marcia Young.....	Alice Tierney
Henry Meek.....	Arthur Heimer
Thomas Lot.....	Wilbur Matchett
“Jimmie”	Roger Hager

The good ship “Drama” was cleared of all excess luggage for a final cruise to victory. The crew was a prize one and the ship was christened “Malted Milk and Marcia.”

This play deals with the story of a young flapper who dresses as an old maid to secure a position in a Lock Firm. Flint, the head of the firm, is trying to sell Flint locks to a skin flint hotel owner whose only weakness is pretty girls. While Flint is out getting a malted milk he is caught between the two floors when the elevator stalls and he cannot get out of it. Marcia dons her glad rags and by her charms gets Lot’s order when the latter was about to refuse Flint. Lot is quite overcome with the pretty girl and so is Flint. She becomes Flint’s stenog and Lot’s boss. Much comedy is introduced by the office boy!

The play was itself a knockout.

SENIOR SHOW

“Take My Advice”

CAST

Jud Fenton.....	Philip O'Malley
Bob Mannion.....	Wilbur Matchett
Peggy Acton.....	Emma Jeffery
John Wargrin.....	Edward Murrman
Mrs. Nelson-Dodd.....	Catherine Philbin
Jimmy Stanton.....	James McDonald
Marcia Wargrin.....	Bertha Card
Virgy Mannion.....	Alice Tierney

At last a mighty senior crew was mustered together to sail the fine ship “Take My Advice.” All the experience of four years of sailing was thrown into this merry cruise. Take my advice, it was the finest ship that ever sailed the seas of Drama.

“Take My Advice,” deals with the efforts of Peggy Acton to get control of her property which has been secured by John Wargrin. She is assisted by Bob Mannion, Editor of Eureka News; Jimmy Stanton and his publicity campaign and Jud Fenton. Peggy falls in love with Bob and Jimmy in love with Bob's sister, Virgy. How Peggy, Jimmy, Bob and Jud outwit Wargrin and save Eureka makes a play that is intensely interesting and amusing.

1927 Class Song

Words by Mary A. Lavelle. Tune: "Maryland, My Maryland."

As slowly on the years have passed
Within the walls of Clinton High,
Our trembling glance looks back at last
As we leave thee with a sigh.
So loth we part from all we love
From all the links that bind us,
To turn our hearts as on we rove
To those we've left behind us.

Chorus:

Remember now our motto true
Which we will practice oft anew,
The words are these, "Simplicity, Sincerity, and Service."

So when the close of pleasure's day
To gloom hath near consigned us,
We turn to catch one fading ray
Of joy that's left behind us.
Oh! Clinton High, Oh! Clinton High
Do we bid thee a sad good-bye?
We'll ne'er forget the deeds you tell
As we speak one last farewell.

Class Prophecy

By Margaret Dervin and Margaret Gates.

Our aeroplane was ready,
We were about to take a ride
Into the distant future,
With a prophet as our guide.
While day with all its hours of light,
Was slowly sinking from our sight,
We felt the presence of the night,
In her calm majestic might.
Rising swiftly, to cloud-land yonder,
Our prophet-guide did then ponder
And promise to help us the heavens to read,
And find out what would be our classmates' deeds.
The moon was palid but not faint,
And far more beautiful than words can paint;
While around her ascending one by one,
The kindling constellations shone.
Now like astrologers of eld,
In that bright vision we beheld
Scenes which filled our hearts with glee,
And wrapt our souls in ecstasy.

DuVarney and Murphy, artists of terpsichore,
Securing admirers by the score,
Are very famous in foreign lands
For their new dance, "Varians."

What golden music strikes the air!
Enrapturing all those gathered there
To hear the leading pianist play
Miss Anna Messenger, so they say.

First choice for the "All-American Football Team."
William McMahon now reigns supreme:
He thrills the crowds from far and near,
Who recognize that he has no peer.

In Madame's shop, sweet and prim,
Alice Tierney, a mannequin,
Draws many to this certain shop,
And she's the reason why they stop.

Altman and Ball in a partnership strong
We now see travelling happily along.
As a successor of "Barnum and Bailey."
Bringing cheer to thousands daily.

James Alzapiedi is now a great surgeon
For his work has won the world's approbation.
Drawing patients, many not few,
And drawing some of their money, too.

As a secretary to a millionaire,
She has a perseverance rare,
And she is faithful to her work
For Helen Ashton would never shirk.

A physical trainer, Wilma Baer became
And now she teaches many games,
She has raised herself with rapid rate
To the best athlete in our State.

Louis Bedrick is a doctor great
And brings honor to the Old Bay State,
Because he is a doctor clever,
And to cure his patients he does endeavor.

Our old classmate, Walter Burke,
One whose duties would never shirk
Has become a dentist of great renown
And has an office in our town.

Francis Burgoyne plays the game,
As an inventor of everlasting fame;
He turns out radios by the score
Still they always cry for more.

As a master in Wall Street,
Bobby Cambridge holds all men at his feet,
For he directs all men's destiny
By such clever strategy.

Bertha Card is a milliner now,
And to her all women bow,
And there Caroline Johnson we also see
Showing the latest from Gay "Paree."

As Pat's successor, can it be
Our old classmate, George Casey?
He teaches Latin with much ease,
And all his pupils he does please.

A travelling salesman now we spy,
One who makes all want to buy,
It's John Connelly, clever and shrewd
Who's always friendly and never rude.

Charming and sweet as in days of yore,
Esther Conn comes to the fore,
A solitaire sparkles on her left hand
Where soon there will be a wedding band.

With pen in hand as in days of old,
Mary Constantino we do behold,
She's busy adding monstrous columns,
Her great success fills many volumes.

A reporter flitting here and there,
A big story does never spare
Eileen Costello does surely entertain
And has much reason to be vain.

Now with great surprise we see
A ruler of society,
Evelyn Davis stately stands,
How gracefully she waves that fan!

Now in sunny Italy,
John Devaney works earnestly,
He directs Tetrazini's band,
Redowning credit on his native land.

Now we stop in sunny Italy,
And there Lillian Dowd do we see,
Composing music that captivates,
And weary souls does it elate.

The sign, "Beauty Parlor," can be seen from the street
It is that of Agnes and Marguerite,
That make such an extraordinary curl
That it should not be denied to any girl.

With a smile ever on her face,
Walking the wards with steady pace,
Bessie Flaherty by her patients is awaited,
For to her profession she is duly mated.

Making friends on every hand,
Louise Fontana moves o'er the land,
She will succeed and much work will she do,
As a friend in need so good and true.

Peter Gannon at our next glance,
We see ambassador to France,
Various claims he settles there
All know he's ever fair and square.

Veronica Garvey at a desk,
In a High School does her best,
To show the pupils how to work,
And teach that duty they ne'er must shirk.

Is this Mary Goodsell in the grammar school
Carrying out the golden rule,
Settling the quarrels that might be,
While she is teaching the A. B. C.'s.

"Billy" Gorman a forester we discern,
And from him many things could we learn,
He is very well skilled in a knowledge of trees,
And from this source draws many large fees.

A big machine goes whizzing by
And in it Eleanor Gorman we spy,
For she has become a professional athlete,
And can do more than make both ends meet.

Arthur Heimer now dispenses grace,
In long black robes he rules his place,
For he's a missionary in the far East
And spends his time to pray and preach.

As clever members of the bar,
Hager and Howard are known near and far,
Helping the needy and the poor,
Always smiling as in days of yore.

Have you heard the great sensation
Of the latest Parisian creations,
Designed by Eleanor, and Bee, too.
Of every imaginable shade and hue.

Alice Heagney is in great demand
And she is known in many lands.
And she has made many conquests.
For she exceeds all the rest.

Near the city of Seville,
In a drowsy Spanish villa,
Irene Hendrickson moves with queenly air,
She's counted fairest of the fair.

Elizabeth Irvine next comes to sight
Looks so charming in her suit of white,
A reconstruction worker, she Performs each duty faithfully.

Wilbur Jaquith now in Senate Hall
A listening throng does enthrall
Each burning word we hear so proud,
While the applause rings long and loud.

She's clever and smart and ever so fair,
Not a day goes by that she is not there.
Miss Emma Jeffrey, of course, is the one
To teach how good bookkeeping should be done.

Why Clinton High School has a new gym!
And who is that we see within?
It's Pauline Jurentkuff at our next glance,
Teaching the children an old folk dance.

A lexicographer of great note
For the many dictionaries he wrote,
Jimmie Kerrigan in this way
Stores up wealth day by day.

Away out in the Far West
Marty Kerrigan is on a joyful quest
For he intends to propose to a sweet little girl,
And live outside of the social whirl.

A baseball field is our next stop,
And there we receive quite a shock
For Paddy Kerrigan is playing there
And is batting the ball far into the air.

Peter Kerrigan works from morn to night
And whatever he does, he surely does right;
For he is known even across the sea,
As a scientist of great ability.

In a large building on the fourth floor,
A sign, "Photographer," is seen on a door,
Within Irene Kidder works diligently
Which is proven by her works, as one can see.

In a large business office on Wall Street
Typing with fingers fleet,
Anna Ranieri, and Mary A. Lavelle
Perform their tasks very well.

Thrills and heart throbs as you read
Of the days of chivalrous deeds
Mary E. Lavelle plies her pen
Writing stories which stir the hearts of men.

As governor of our good old state,
Ruth Lowe sits quite sedate,
And interest in her, men never lose
Because of her extraordinary views.

As Congressmen of the State of Maine
They have at last attained their aim,
May Mac and Agnes Philbin we mean
And on all political matter they are keen.

The great theaters a crowd does fill
To see an actor of exceptional skill,
Wilbur Matchett Fate has set
As the chief actor in Hamlet.

Robert Mayberry next we see Working diligently as can be
At a very great distance from here
He is known as a famous civil engineer.

James McDonald, is that he,
Famous Admiral of our navy?
He wins laurels day by day,
And brings much fame to U. S. A.

Professor at Columbia University
Joseph McIntyre next we see,
He teaches every foreign tongue
To eager pupils, old and young.

Amid Society's social whirl
Helen McQuoid is a well-known girl
For she is popular with the men,
And has been proposed to again and again.

In a bank in New York State,
Thomas Murphy sits quite sedate,
As he rustles out the dough
To waiting crowds each row by row.

Earnestly working on a case
Edward Murrman sets the pace,
For young attorneys, and you see
That he well deserves his L. L. D.

In a well-known summer resort
Francis O'Toole has proven a great sport.
And for gay society's sake
In many socials does he partake.

Evelyn Peinert is a nurse, I hear,
Bringing to patients, health and cheer,
For she is a graduate of a Medical School
And brings to that sphere a precious jewel.

Far, far away, from her old home,
Lecturing to the boys of Rome,
Catherine Philbin works very hard,
May nothing her success retard.

Elizabeth Plummer now holds command,
She's leading lady of the land;
And when she sings you hear a gush
Of full-voiced sweetness like a thrush.

Now Harold Robinson, my dear classmates,
Is President of the United States;
He's trying to keep peace in this nation of ours,
And we're sure he'll succeed while he has the power.

Dorothy Saunders is quite the rage,
An actress on the legitimate stage;
Dame Rumor whispers soon that she,
A millionaire's bride will be.

Editor of the New York Times.
Edward Scanlon writes many lines.
His clever style wins approbation,
And so reads his name o'er all the nation.

Hazel Spielvogel now we see
As an artist in gay Paree,
And she has labored, not in vain
For her paintings have brought her considerable fame.

Harriet Southwick has gained much success
As a librarian, we must confess;
She helps children in their endless quest,
And picks out books which are the best.

A statesman very noble and great,
Has come to be Joe Stickney's fate
For he is representative for dear Old Mass.,
And brings much credit on his class.

Teresa Tonole is going abroad
To see the statutes the masters laud,
For she is a sculptress of great renown
And has brought credit to her old home town.

Next to Macaulay as the best
Sadie Toole exceeds the rest;
As a literary critic, she Works as intelligently as can be.

In a hotel lobby, you will see
A public writer of stenography,
Teresa Welch bestowing on eager ears
Gay stories of her High School years.

Now in the dewy distance
We see our classmates disappear,
And we're left alone with the prophet,
Who alone can foretell our career.
We bid him make haste to tell us
What the future for us has in store,
Once more we look in the planets
And behold! They are there no more
For they've vanished with coming of morning,
And left us with new day begun,
When over the hilltops comes peeping
The great and glorious sun.
Now behind are the days of our childhood,
And the friends and classmates dear;
And before is the unknown future,
Pray God! we may all persevere.
Yes, upward and onward forever
Be our path on the hills of life,
But 'ere long a radiant dawning
Will glorify trial and strife;
And our Father's hand will lead us
Tenderly upward then, where
In the peace and joy of the other world,
We shall one day meet again.

Where did you hear it?

"Comprend?"

"Dies Immortales!"

"Hello!"

"The last bell has rung! We'll have the talking s-s-sstopped!?!"

"No—Not by a long shot!"

"Absolutely!"

"Variety is the spice of life and we certainly have variety here—."

"Vous êtes stupides—très stupides!"

"What a whopper!"

"That is to say."

"C'est assez bien."

"All right—write out the Declaration to hand in tomorrow."

"I don't care! It's your book!"

"Well, what am I supposed to do? Bark!!"

And what we hear about Class:

"I'm sorry—ha! ha!"

"Gotcher French? Lemme take it!"

"Say where were YOU last night?"

"Picture's any good?"

"Gotcha Latin done—kum—on'n translate then!"

"Oh! Mis-s-s-s-ter C——sky!!!"

"Didja get a test?"

"Whatarya shootin' off about?"

"Gotcha Stenog?"

"Not to-o-night!"

The Prize Winning Lincoln Essay

Written by MARY E. LAVELLE

ABRAHAM LINCOLN—HIS NATURE AND CHARACTER

Placed as he was at the cross-roads of a nation's destiny, on him the country depended. The page of the birth and revolution of the nation was turned and a clean white sheet faced him. He was to write. Would he blot the page with evil-doing and so destroy the book, or would he return the book at the end of his allotted time, the pages filled, written upon in letters of gold the words, "The Nation Lives?"

His character was to be shown to the citizens of his country. The veil over the most sacred ideals and hopes of his heart and soul was to be rent in two.

He was born in a slave state, but remained there long enough to get only a few glimpses of the bright and dark spots of slavery.

It was something deep in his heart which rebelled against the selfishness and barbarity of that system. His first glimpse of slavery after he had reached the age of reasoning was when he made a business trip to New Orleans. There he saw a slave market. The treatment, which he saw, given the slaves, ground harshly against the tenderness and pity in his heart. He then declared that if ever he had the opportunity to strike slavery he would strike it hard.

While his soul-felt compassion was given to the enslaved race, their masters received his utmost charity. He exhibited a firm belief that right would, in the end, triumph over evil and this gave him patience to await the time destined by the Almighty.

Everything he did in his private or political career shows strong reliance upon a power which was supreme over that of any man. He acknowledged, within himself, the right of any creature, made in the image and likeness of God, to his personal acts of mercy and righteousness. These acts were not done as favors from the mighty but as duties of any man to uphold the laws of God and of Society.

We remember Lincoln as the man who freed the slaves, but there is a far more important thing to remember, that is the manner in which he accomplished his task. A radical or a fanatic might have freed the slaves immediately upon assumption of power, but how long would this act have lasted during the years of bloodshed that followed? When the time came for the country to change, Lincoln led the people out of the darkness of the past into the dazzling beauty of the future. By sheer force of personality, he showed his countrymen that the loss of one's life for the life of one's country is not only tolerable but sanctifying.

He chose the untried road which would cause the traveler much pain and sorrow but which, in the end, would bring him to higher levels. During his journey, he exhibited patience, faith, profound meditation, wit, logical sense, and a deep capacity for pain.

During his political career he showed expectation that God would make known his desires to him through signs and prophecies. This is shown by his dreams of a ship and dark shores and he is known to have made a solemn vow to God, while debating whether to sign the Emancipation Proclamation, that if Lee were driven back, he would issue the Proclamation. In this Proclamation, his acute practical judgment, his self reliance, his statesmanship and his valor were shown.

He was a man of modesty, for he would not take credit for managing the events of the war, but insisted that events had controlled him.

He was also a man of gentleness. He despised war and bloodshed, and it wounded him deeply to see his countrymen dead and dying during the Civil War. Once, in an Indian uprising, three hundred people were to be put to death, but Lincoln tried each case personally and only about forty were executed. This same gentleness is shown in his strict keeping of the Golden Rule in his treatment of Confederate prisoners. Honesty was a paramount object in his dealings with money and politics.

He had ideals and standards from which he never wavered. He was not as a piece of driftwood, tossed and battered by the waves of public sentiment and opinion; he was pilot of his own Ship of State. At times, these waves and currents slightly swayed him to the side, but planning his own course, he brought the ship into calm seas.

Although he lacked the means of gaining an education, he had three great teachers—poverty, labor and solitude. From poverty he learned the necessity of work in order to reap its benefits. From labor he learned the right every man has to the benefits he has earned. From solitude, he learned to weigh ideas, and never to act too hastily, but to consider deeply and take counsel of his desires and his ambition.

His characteristics were indeed many times contradictory, yet acted together in such a way as to make him the man he was, respected and loved by all. He was a man of charity, but at the same time very just. He was modest but confident, and although he loved happiness, his life was filled with sorrow.

He had great story telling ability, but if most of his stories are analyzed we will find them to be parables and similes rather than humorous tales and anecdotes.

He was called to the helm when the storm was at its height. The waves of criticism and hatred rose high and surged against the sides of the Ship of State. A less great man would have cowered in fear, but he stood undaunted, watchful, patient and sympathetic until, through the sheer power of his personal strength, the course was changed, and out of the tumult of the storm, Lincoln guided the nation to the quiet harbor of Peace.

During the war his heart was ever with the soldiers who were laying down their lives that the country might see the righteousness of his case. It is said that when he would pass an officer, be he lieutenant or private, he would take off his hat entirely. It was for them he had the highest esteem. It caused his great sorrow to see the soldiers wounded and dying, and it was his greatest ambition to free the slaves without the cost of lives. This was impossible and the necessity of war caused him much pain and unrest. But out of pain came triumph, and after he had completed the work ordained for him by his Creator, he was called to another land from which he could watch the nation live and thrive, and see the bitterness and hatred which some of his people felt for him change into love and esteem. When his time came he returned the Book of History and Calliope smiled upon him and through the winds of eternity he heard her voice, "Well Done."

Destination of Seniors of 1927

Practically all of the boys and girls of '27 have decided to continue their "pursuit of knowledge." Next year will find them at the following various schools and colleges. The teachers of '27 need have no fear as to their success, for all hold dear the teachings of C. H. S. which will enable them to "play the game" straight and true.

Bursts and Duds

Heard in History:

Mr. D-y-r—Who knows the definition of civilization?

Miss H-n-ey—It is the process by which ailens become citizens.

Mr. McG-a-l—Why do you always say, "Well!" when you begin to recite?

St-k-ey—Well, you see it's a dry subject.

Miss R-w-n—Murphy! Now, will you please tell the class the ONE GREAT use of the guillotine?

F. M-r-hy—A sure cure for dandruff.

Mr. Dy-r—What was the origin of the Marathon?

A-t-m-n—The Greeks wanted excitement, so they started a race.

Mr. Dy-r—What was the most important fact concerning Charlemagne?

Bright Freshie—He had a short neck.

Mr. McC-ff-y—What is ostracism?

Bright Youth—Julia Caesar's cousin.

A Junior Boy and a Junior Girl were discussing Versailles and its beauty during class.

Mr. McGr-l—"Well! What's all this about?"

Boy Answers—"I was telling her how nice it was.

Mr. McGr-l—(Misunderstanding). "Well, this is no place to be telling her how nice she is. Can't you wait till after class?"

Heard in Latin:

P-t-r (Translating)—"She went through the clouds and saw the mountains outlined below."

Mr. H-n-s—"What does 'subricto' mean?"

Mr. H-n-s—"Where did you get that P-t-r?"

P-t-r—"I got it out of my head."

Mr. H-n-s—"You did?"

P-t-r—"Yes, Sir."

Mr. H-n-s—"I hear the cavalry coming up Mechanic Street."

In Latin a noise in the back of the room starts and continues.

Mr. H-n-s—"A-tm-n, you can't get into that ink well."

Mr. H-n-s—"M-rp-y, why did you bring a razor to class this morning?"

M-rp-y—"Well, yesterday you said we were going to take the life of Julius Caesar and come prepared. So I brought my razor."

Heard in Science: (From a test paper).

Q. State the importance of the study of electricity.

A. The reason why I think electricity is important is because when your electric light bills are high you can go and read the meter and see if they gyped you.

Q. State correct method of breathing.

A. The correct method of breathing is through the nose. If you breathe through the mouth you might get some air in the lungs and that's dangerous.

Mr. Dy-r—"What is the alimentary canal?"

One of 1929—"The alimentary canal runs from Lake Erie to Buffalo."

(Heard the same day in 6th Period Science).

State (a) one source of water supply, (b) where does Clinton get its water?

Ans. (a) cisterns, (b) from the Piggy Wiggy.

Mr. McSh-ry—"St-rk, what are complimentary colors?"

St-rk—"Well, er-er, well, if you put two complimentary colors together you get another color."

Mr. McSh-ry—"Well, is that so? Let's see you put two colors together and get a different color."

Small voice from the rear—"Try white with white."

Midge and Impy arguing about the question of love.

Impy—"I don't believe in love."

Midge—"Well, I do."

They go over to Thorn to see if he can help the argument.

Midge—"Thorn, do you believe in Love?"

Thorn's mouth opens but no sound comes forth.

Mr. Dy-r—"Miss H-nd-i-ks-n—"Why are potatoes cooked?"

Impy—"They digest easier. I wouldn't eat a raw potato for the life of me."

Foreword

The following pages are devoted to the interests of business men who are believers in CLINTON HIGH ideals.

They do not seek a one-sided bargain,

They ask our support and they give us their aid.

They are real CLINTON HIGH men although many of Them never knew as students, the spirit of dear old C. H. S.

Let us help these merchants who believe in helping us.

READ THEIR ADVS.

Patronize these merchants.

Carry the traditions of CLINTON HIGH fair play and sportsmanship
into all your dealings.
